D. J. HOSTETTER'S

STOMACH BITTERS

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Constipation Flatulency, Loss of Appetite or any Rillious Complaints arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels producing Cramps Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c. &c.

All of these ills yield like magic toits vilifying influence upon the system, and for a person in advanced years, or recovering from sickness of any kind, nothing can be more conducive to their convalescence than the use of these Bittere as per directions on the bottles.

Scarcely four years have elapsed since the first introduction of "Dr. J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters" to the public, and such has been the success of this article after its tested efficacy by a discriminating public, that during the last year nearly half a million bottles were sold, with a continuous demand in excess of the supply with all the facilities the proprietors have been able to command in its preparation.

Are you dyspeptic? Then take these Stomach Bitters.

Are you billious? Try one bottle of these Bitters, and be relieved at once.

Are you annoyed by indigestion or constipation? Remove the cause by the free use of these Bitters.

Have you fever and ague? How many thousands in the West and South have been cured of this constitution-destroying disease by the free use of these Bitters!

All should try this great Anidote We venture to affirm that, when Hostetters's Stomach Bitters are used, a case of Fever and Ague cannot occur: therefore, no family consulting their own interest can afford to do without it.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

Inrecommending to your use Dr J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters, it is but just to state that as a stimulant to the system, in imparting strength and vigor, preparatory to periodical changes, which are of times attended with much pain and trouble, we k ow of no preperation more happily adapted to all afflictions consequent upon this cause, and for cramps in stomach, cholera morbus, and all ailments arising from over indulgence in fruits, vegetables, ice creams, &c, it is certain and almost instantaneous remedy, and no family should be without it.

One wineglassful taken three times each before meals, or half the buantity i the patients are in a weak condition, and increased in proportion to their strength, will be found a great tonic agent, which all will appreciate when personally satisfied of the facts, as they will be by giving the Bitters one trial.

☞ CAUTION. ☜

Carefulness should be our study, but more particularly when the health is at stake. Since these Bitters have, from their medical qualities, become so popular, there have been a great many concoctions called Stomach Bitters, and often represented to be the same in virtue as Dr. Hostetter's, palmed upon the public. Be careful of these vilainous compounds! Our Bitters are put up in square quart bottles, and covered with the patent metallic cap, stamped "Hostetter's Stomach Bitters," and Dr. J Hostetter blown on the glass. All others are imitation.

THE FROG.

Of all the funny things that live
In woodland, marsh or bog;
That creep the ground, or fly the air,
The funniest thing's the frog.
The frog—the scientificest
Of Nature's handiwork—
The frog that neither walks nor runs,
But goes it with a jerk.

With pants and coats of bottle green,
And yellow, fancy vest,
He plunges into mud and mire—
All in his Sunday best.
When he sits down, he's standing up,
As Paddy O'Rian once said;
And for convenience sake he wears
His eyes on top his head.

You see him sitting on a log,
Above the "vasty deep,"
You feel inclined to say, "old chap!"
Just look before you leap!"
You raise your cane to hit him on
His ugly looking mug,
But ere you get it half way up,
Adown he goes kerchug.

He keeps about his native pond,
And ne'er goes on a spree;
Nor gets "how came you so," for a
Cold water chap is he;
For earthly cares he ne'er gets drunk;
He's not a silly fool;
But when they come, he gives a jump,
And drowns 'em in the pool.

ROAD LAW.

We copy from the De Kalb Democrat the following abstract of the Road Laws and duties of Road Supervisors, compiled by the Auditor of that County, and which, he says, contains all the information that is required to enable Road Supervisors to discharge their duties according to Law. It will be found of interest not only to supervisors but to every person subject to do road work, and is worth cutting out and preserving:

DUTIES OF SUPERVISORS,

SEC. 5. Such supervisor shall take an oath before entering upon the discharge of his duties; for the faithful performance thereof; he shall carry into effect all the orders of the trustees of the township in which the road district is situate touching the highways and bridges therein, and keep the same in good repair; he shall also call out all persons in such district liable to work on the highways therein, superintend the work thereon, and see that the same is faithfully performed, sue for and collect all fines all fines and commutation money due such distrit.

SEC. 6. Such supervisor shall call out all male persons except insane, idiots, deaf and dumb, and blind persons, in such district who are residents of this State, and over the age of twent-one and under fifty years, and not exempt from such labor, during two days in the months of May and June of each year, and shall require each and such persons to work on the highways in such district eight hours each day, and to furnish in such labor any tool the supervisors may direct, if the demand therefor be a reasonable one.

SEC. 7. Such supervisor may require any person liable to work, on such highways, who may be the owner of an ox or horse team, and a plow, cart, or wagon, to furnish the same and a driver in such labor upon such highway, and such person shall receive such credit for three days' labor therefor, and be receipted accordingly by such supervisor.

SEC. 8. The supervisor of such district shall make out, within ten days after he is qualified, a list of all the persons in such district liable to work on the highways thereof, and present the same to the clerk of such township, who shall enter the same on the record book thereof. Such Supervisor shall notify each person within his road district liable to work on the highways thereof, by verbel or written notice, and if written, to be left at the residence of such person of the time and place of working on such highways, at least three days prior to the time designated for such working.

SEC. 9. On application to the township trustees, any person liable to work on highways may be exempt therefrom, if it be shown that he is unable, from bodily infirmity, to work there on, and that he is too poor to pay the commutation therefor; also, any person belonging to any legally organized fire company; and in such cases the clerk of such township shall execute to such person a certificate thereof, which shall on being presented to the supervisor, entitle him to such exemption.

SEC. 10. Any person liable to work on highways may be exempted therefrom by paying the supervisor of his road district one dollar for each day he is liable to work thereon, and in such case he shall be receipted therefor by the supervisor, which receipt shall be filed with the township clerk, which supervisor shall be authorized to employ some person or persons to work out such money at the rate of seventy-five cents per day on the roads of his district, or failing to do so, he shall pay over all such money into the township treasury. Such supervisor within ten days after warning the hi ds liable to work in such district, shall bring suit in the name of the township in which such district is situate, against such persons as fail to work or pay over the commutation money therfor, before any justice of the township and in such suit it shall only be necessary for an account stating the number of days which such person so failed and charging one dollar per day each therefor, to be filed as a cause of action; and in case of recovery, by such supervisor, the judgment shall be rendered for one dollar for every day the defendant so failed, and costs of suit, and no stay of execution or benefit of valuation or appraisement laws, shall be allowed on such judgment; and in case such supervisor shall fail to bring such suit, he shall forfeit and pay the sum of ten dollars, to be recovered before any of the justice township in the name thereof, and all moneys so recovered under the provisions of this section, shall be paid into the township treasury by such supervisor; and in case he shall fail to pay over such money within ten days after the receipt thereof, he shall be prosecuted by such treasurer under the statute regulating the punishment of those guilty of neglect of official duty and shall be liable to its penalty.

SEC. 11. All money collected by virtue of the preceeding section, shall be credited on such clerk's books to such road district; and shall be applied to the improvement of the highways thereof, under such regulations as such trustees shall adopt.

SEC. 12. Any person liable to perform labor on the public highways, when notified for such purpose, may appear in person, or by an able bodied substitute, and the person or substitute so appearing, shall actually work eight hours in each day, under a penalty of twelve and a half cents for every hour such person or substitute shall be in default, to be deducted by the supervisor for the price of the day's labor.

SEC. 13. If any such person or his substitute after appearing, shall remain idle or not work faithfully, or shall hinder others from working, such offender shall, for every such offence, forfeit the sum of one dollar, to be collected as other fines and forfeitures herein specified, and he shall be discharged by the supervisor without credit for any part of the work he may done.

SEC 14. Such supervisor, within ten days after the receipt of any money, which he is not required to pay over to the township treasurer, or of any money he ordered by the township trustees, to be paid to him for the repairs of highways, shall proceed to employ laborers to repair the highways in his district, but shall not pay more to such laborers than is customary in his district for similar purposes; and such supervisor shall attend such repair, but in no case shall such supervisor neglect to repair such highways. And if such labor and tax, or labor where no tax has been assessed, shall be insufficient therefor, he shall call out the hands in his district to complete such repairs.

SEC. 15. When such extra labor provided for in the next preceeding section, shall not require all the hands in the district, or an equal amount of labor from each, the supervisor may assess upon the same, upon such number of the hands as he may deem sufficient, and for the excess of work performed by any one over the average amount performed by all, he shall give to such person performing such excess a certificate of the amount thereof, which shall be a good credit to the holder thereof, on account of any subsequent labor to be done by him on the highways in said district.

SEC. 16 The supervisor, or any other person by his order, may enter upon any land adjoining or near to any highway in his district, and thereupon conduct such ditches, drains and dams, and dig and remove any gravel, earth, sand or stone, or cut and remove any wood or trees that may be necessary for the proper construction, repair or preservation of such highway; and any person aggrieved may petition the township trustees for an assessment of damages occasioned thereby; and in such case, such trustees shall appoint three disinterested persons in such township to view the locality where the grievance was committed and assess such damages within twenty days after such appointment, they having first taken an oath to faithfully discharge their duties, before some officer authorized to administer oaths; and such viewers shall make a report thereof within ten days after such assessment, to such trustees, having first given notice thereof to the complainant, and such trustees shall order the damages assessed to be paid out of the township treasury, unless they should deem, them unreasonable, in which case they may reduce the amount.

SEC. 17. When a public highway running through, or bordering on any plantation, shall become obstructed, the owner or occupant of such plantation shall remove such obstruction as soon as it has come to his knowledge, for which the proper supervisor shall allow him a reasonable credit on his liability to work on the highways, except such obstruction is caused by the act of the owner of such plantation, in which case he shall be required to remove the same, without any such credit.

SEC. 18. All trees standing or lying on the land over which any highway shall be laid out, which it shall be necessary to remove the opening of such highway, shall belong to the owner of such land, if he shall avail himself of the same, before the supervisor is required to open such highway; but all such trees or down timber, or other material found on such premises, may be taken and used by the proper supervisor, for the construction or repair of the highway or bridge on such land.

SEC. 19 Every supervisor shall erect and keep up, at the forks on every highway, and at every crossing of roads within his district, guide posts and boards, with proper inscriptions and devices thereon, the expense thereof to be paid out of the township treasury.

SEC. 25. Any person who shall injure any drain, dam, embankment, ditch or other construction, made for the protection of any highway or bridge, or who shall willfullly destroy any guide post, or deface any inscription or device theron, or who shall unnecessarily and to the hindrance of such passengers, obstruct any highway or bridge, and who shall, when driving any vehicle, fail to keep to the right when meeting another vehicle, so as to allow it to pass without injury, for every such offence, such person shall forfeit the sum of five dollars, to be recovered before a justice of the peace of the county, in the name of such trustee, by the supervisor of the district; and in such obstruction, for every day the same is continued, such sum shall be recovered; and in all such cases, such supervisor, within three days after receiving information of any such forfeiture, shall commence such suit, and the sum recovered thereon shall be paid to the treasurer of the township for the benefit of the highways in such district.

SEC. 26. All such suits commenced by one supervisor, may be continued by his successor in office, and no costs shall be taxed against him, therein; and in case such supervisor shall fail to use due diligence in keeping the highways of his district in good repair, under the general regulations herein prescribed, or who shall fail to call out the hands of his district to work on highways thereof, the number of days herein prescribed, unless a tax has been assessed for the repair of such highways, or who shall fail to bring suit for any of the forfeiters herein provided, when required to do so by this act; or who shall fail to perform any other duty enjoined upon him by this act, for every such offence, he shall forfeit the sum of ten dollars, to be recovered before any justice in the county, in the name of the township trustees, by the treasurer of such township; and all sums so recovered shall be for the benefit of the district for which such supervisor was elected or appointed; and such treasurer shall bring such suit within three days after receiving any information of any such forfeiture.

New Gold Discoveries—Great Excitement.—The Hudson Bay Company have had the good luck to find such rich diggins in their territory on Frazer and Thompson Rivers, as to cause a general stampede of every class of people tor the mines. The Puget Sound Herald of the 6th ult says:

From gentlemen who came passengers in the Sea Bird, we learn that the Hudson Bay Company at Victoria have received within the last month about one hundred and ten pounds of gold dust from the Indians. This was obtained merely from surface digging, without the aid of anything more than the rude articles—such as pans and willow baskets—possessed by the Indians.

Captain Hyde, of the United States revenue cutter Jeffersou Davis, who arrived there the day previous confirmed this report The Herald thus reports of him:

He informs us that from all he has heard they are very extensive and rich, and that there is as good mining on the American side as the British. He has in his possession one piece of gold worth $20, and vial full of coarse-scale gold which came from the mines.

A few days previous to his sailing, Captain Connor, of the steamer Sea Bird, arrived from Victoria, Vancouver's Island, who informed him that the Hudson Bay Company had shipped 200 pounds weight of gold dust to London. This was collected by one of their traders at Fort Hope, since January 1, 1858. Some are making now in the mines from $8 to $20 per day, and those that are there are writing to their friends to follow them.

There is a general rush for the mines from all quarters of the Sound; farmers are leaving their farms; mills have stopped; the military are deserting, and almost all that can possibly raise means enough are making tracks for the mines

This intelligence, when it reached San Francisco, created as much excitement as we were wont to see in the early days of California mining. The Herald, of the 20th ult. says:

We learn that between five and six hundred of our citizens are already booked for a passage on board the steamer Commodore, which leaves to-day. Among these are many of the most active members of our fire department, some of the companies of which will lose from five to ten men.

☞ A new process of extracting teeth was recently tried in Baltimore. A number of teeth were extracted, and the patients declare they received no pain, but experienced a numbing sensation about the tooth. This soothing is produced by passing a current of electricity through the tooth at the time of extracting the patient grasps firmly in his hand one pole from an electro-magnetic machine; the other pole is attached to the forceeps, and by this means a current of electricity is passed through the tooth, and produces a local anæsthesia, and so avoids the use of chloroform or ether.

A Touch of the Romantic—In the language of Parthenia, "two hearts with but a single thought, two souls that beat as one," will generally overcome all ordinary obstacles that "cruel parients," interpose and finally become united "for better or worse." Such has been the experience, as we must tell it in brief of Adolph Etienne Godeffory, a youth of 20 years and Harriet Emilie Kohlfahl, a maided of only 18 summers Adolph who is the son of the richest man in hamburg, fell in love, most violently and incurably with Harriet, who first appeared to him in the form of a premiere danseuse, light as a fairy and beautiful as a sylph His passion, which he could not conceal was reciprocated by Harriet, and the rich parient was appealed to. He, of course, contrasted his bullion with the gauze, and tinsel offered by the representative of Terpsichors, and commanded his son and heir to renounce the object of his love. The son, as in duty bound, (vide the last moral) refused to obey the cruel parent's mandates and a clandestine marriage was consummated. As soon as the father was informed of this proceeding, he had Harriet arrested for "obtaining goods under false pretences," for some other spurious charge obtained and destroyed the evidence of his son's marriage, and sent him to this city, instructing his agent here to act as a guardian to the youth, and furnish him with $15 per week for his expenses.

Shortly after Adolph had left Hamburg for this country, Harriet was set at liberty, when she was informed of the departure of her lover, and immediately determined to follow and overtake him, if possible. Her zeal and love combined enabled her to find the exiled Adolph in this city, and their reunion might be imagined, but not properly described. The pursuit of Adolph by Harriet, was communicated to the agent in this city, who was instructed to prevent if possible, a marriage of the parties in this country. The agent was faithful to his instructions, and succeded in preventing a marriage in this city. But the lovers were not to be thwarted in their distress. They left the city on Saturday last, and finding a magistrate willing in Waltham, to "make the twain one," for a slight consideration, they were married

Assoon as the agent discovered that the lovers had outwitted him, he fumed, uttered a variety of strange oaths, and applied to the chief of the Police for assistance. It was, however, too late. The united hearts could not be served—the link could not be broken. Adolph, in his pride, and Harriet who we ought to have stated before, is a voluptuous, fair skinned, dark eyed, and fascinating woman, appeared before the chief yesterday afternoon, and soon satisfied him that they had consulted their tastes and happiness in the matter, and there was no possibility of changing the course of human events, so far as they were concerned.

This closes the story. Adolph has taken a store in Hanover street, where he and his wife will probably be pleased to receive the patronage of the public until the elder Gedeffroy relents, forgives, and calls them back to Hamburg —Boston Herald.

Perpetual Motion.—A Western correspondent of Harper's Magazine gets off the following good one:

"I was traveling in Virginia by stage and spending the night at a country tavern, and was greatly entertained by the talk of the stage drivers and others sitting around the bar-room fire in the evening. One old codger worked off a good thing:

"When he was down to the fair a good many years ago there was a prize offered to the one who would come nearest to making perpetual motion. Well, all sorts of machines of all shape and materials, were fetched there and shown and the makers told them how long they would run. As I walked about them I saw a sign over a tent—All who want to see perpetual motion, and no mistake, meet here. So I paid the admission fee and went in. Very soon a queer little man got on a box that served for a platform, and addressed the audience:—Ladies and gentlemen, I'm going to exhibit to you the most wonderfullest invention you have ever seen, it's been running full three years; and if nobody stops it, it'll run forever. And here he unrolled a strip of paper. This is a Printer's Bill! and as he held it up to the gaze of the people, they admitted, whether the bill was paid or not, they had all been sold."

☞ We know of several such cases of perpetual motion, some of which are far ahead of this Virginia one, and have been running twice as long, without the least symptom of being stopped. Some of them we have no doubt will run for ever, and probably be brought up even in the next world, as damning evidence against the pitiful souls who cheated the printer in this. If any one considers these remarks as personal we would advise them to call and pay up, and say nothing about it.

An Important Discovery.—Dr Pell a young physician of London, who has within a few years acquired a wide fame by his successful cure of cancer, has published the secret of his treatment, and his mode of cure has been successfully practiced in this country. Dr Pell is the physician to whom Crawford, the Sculptor, resorted in the last stages of his disease, but not till the roots of the fungus that destroyed his life had reached the brain. The mode of treatment is described as follows:

"A piece of sticking plaster was put over the cancer, with a circular piece cut out of the center a little larger than the cancer, so that the cancer and a small circular rim of healthy skin next to it were exposed. Then a plaster made of chloride of zinc, blood root, and wheat flour, was spread on a piece of muslin of the size of this circular opening, and applied to the cancer for twenty four hours. On removing it the cancer will be found burnt into, and appear of the color and hardness of an old shoe sole, and the circular rim outside of it will appear white and parboiled, as if scalded by hot steam. The wound is now dressed, and the outside rim soon suppurates, and the cancer comes out a hard lump, and the place heals up The plaster kills the cancer, so that it sloughs out like dead flesh, and never grows again. The remedy was discovered by Dr Pell, of London, and has been used by him for six or eight years, with unfailing success, and not a case has been known of the re appearance of the cancer where this remedy has been applied."

Laughable Incident—Near the corner of Washington and Franklin streets, yesterday afternoon, we noticed a man whistling for his dog. There was nothing remarkable in this, to be sure, but that which next attracted our attention might have been considered interesting, inasmuch as it caused many people to laugh The object was a young lady in the enjoyment of very voluminous hoops, who appeared to be indulging in a Terpsichorean entertainment of the St Vitus order. But a decided commotion below soon told the story of her sufferings, and various were the means for relief that she adopted At length she gave a sudden jump forward, whereupon the lost dog appeared and passed down the street with his owner, evidently highly gratified at regaining his freedom.—Boston Post.

Wheat per Acre.—The London Economist says:

"The English wheat crop is remarkably good, of unusual fine quality, and the weight fully up to sixty four pound per bushel. In Kent and Essex, the produce is from forty six to fifty six bushels to the acre. In midland districts the yield is forty four bushels to the acre. In the north eastern and western districts the growth may be considered the best on record. Hence it would be no exaggeration to state that England has produced this year nearly, if not quite, eight million bushels more wheat than in '56. The economist does not anticipate any great reduction of price in consequence of this great produce, but says there will probably be a proportional increase in consumption."

Dangerous Illness of Gov. Willard.—It is with unfeigned regret we announce that Gov. Willard has for the past week been lying in an extremely critical condition from a severe attack of congestion of the lungs or pneumonia. The latest accounts are rather more favorable. The State Sentinel of Thursday says: "The symptoms of Gov. Willard were more favorable yesterday. His physicians are more hopeful of his recovery, and no longer regard him in immediate danger."

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, a majority of the Judiciary Committee have reported that Messrs Bright and Fitch, Senators from this state, are entitled to their seats. The report is a fair and correct one, and will be adopted by the Senate. There can be no doubt these gentlemen were legally elected, and are as much entitled to their seats as any other Senators on that floor.

The House has decided against Mr Lewis D Campbell, of Ohio, right to his seat. It is charged that he was elected by illegal negro votes, having received more votes of that complexion than his majority over Mr. Vallandigham, his competitor. A resolution that Mr. Vallandigham is entitled to the seat was adopted by four majority; and he was sworn in and took his seat.

THE MORMONS.—There is no official confimation of the reported submission of the Mormons but the fact that Gov. Cummings has proceeded to Salt Lake City at the invitation of Brigham Young is confirmed by later arrivals. The Mormon women and children have left the city and been sent to the southward, and many of the men have proceeded in the same direction Some reports are that their destination is an almost inaccessible mountain range in the southwestern part of the territory, where gold is said to be abundant; others assert that the Mexican province of Sonora is to be their next resting place

SCHOOL TRUSTEES.—We have at present two boards of School Trustees in our city—one elected by the people, and another subsequently appointed by the city council. At the city election on the 4th inst. Messrs. W. Rockhill, S. Edsall, and T. Tigar, were elected school trustees, beating James Humphrey, the opposing candidate, upwards of 100 votes, and they were officially notified by the City Clerk that they were duly elected Trustees The city council for some reason best known to themselves, took it into their heads to set aside this election and go through the farce of balloting for Trustees, and announced that Messrs. Rockhill, Tigar, and Humphrey were elected. The two former declined the appointment, and protested against the legality of the council's setting aside the popular election. Mr. Humphrey we believe has accepted the appointment, and is now the council's board; Messrs Rockhill, Edsall, and Tigar have qualified and act as the people's board The question now is, which is the legal board? The law says they shall be elected by the people, or appointed by the corporation: and the people having elected we contend there was no necessity for the council to appoint, nor had they any right to do so. This we understand is the opinion of some of our most eminent lawyers, to whom the matter has been submitted.

The pertinacity of the council and the determination evinced to force Mr. Humphrey on the board, after he was so signally defeated before the people gives rise to some unpleasant surmises, have a very bad effect on the cause of public education, and will inevitably lead to much difficulty in collecting any city tax levied for school purposes. It is a thing that ought to have been especially avoided by the council if they are friends to free schools How any friends of that cause could act so injudiciously is unaccountable; and how a board, professedly democratic, nominated by democratic conventions and elected the votes of that party, could arrogate to themselves the power of setting aside a popular election and supercceding the men nominated in a regular convention and duly elected, is inexplicable. If ever they again come before the people, they will find the doctrine of popular sovereignty is not to be wantonly trampled upon.

The present posture of affairs is much to be deplored, and can only result in mischief to our free schools. The only path of safety now is for the Common Council to retrace their steps, acknowledge their error and the evil counsels which have guided them, and hereafter submit themselves to their sovereigns—the people. For the sake of harmony and the prosperity of our free schools, we hope they will take this wise and patriotic course.

Latest from Europe—The Africa arrived in New York on Thursday, with Liverpool dates to the 15th. There is nothing of much interest. The resolution censuring the ministry was rejected by the House of Lords by 9 majority, but is considered certain to pass the Commons; in which case Lord Derby will have to resign, and the liberals will again come into power. The markets are reported dull, and flour nominal at previous rates.

Look out for Counterfeits!—Parties have been arrested in Cincinnati and Toledo, having in their possession large amounts of Counterfeits on the Banks of Holyoke and Hadley Falls, Mass. Some of them may have found their way here, and it would be as well to look out for them. Counterfeit $10s. on the McKean Co. Bank in Pennsylvania are also plenty. The bank itself is a wildcat, and its notes not current—so we consider this counterfeit as one of the meanest and vilest that was ever issued. Don't touch either the counterfeit or genuine.

Another Counterfeiter Convicted.—Dr. Pat terson, another of the gang arrested in the south-eastern part of this state, has been convicted in the U. S. District Court on a charge of making bogus coin. Sentence not yet passed.

THE AMERICAN NAVY at this time consists of 50 seaworthy vessels of all classes, and 28 which are considered unseaworthy. Thirty vessels, including 12 steam frigates, are now in commission. The navy contains two line of battle ships, six sailing frigates, 13 steam frigates, 21 sloops of war, 2 steam tenders, 2 brigs, 1 schooner, and 3 store ships.

A Good Appointment.—James J. Faran, Esq editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, has been appointed postmaster at that city. This is an appointment eminently "fit to be made." He possesses every qualification for the office, and is moreover a reliable and straight-forward democrat, who has done good service in the cause, and enjoys the entire confidence of his party and fellow citizens generally.

Hon. HENRY B. ANTHONY, Ex-Governor of Rhode Island and editor of the Providence Journal has been elected U S. Senator from Rhode Island, in place of Hon. Philip Allen, whose term expires on the 4th March next.

Pine Apples.—Messrs. TOWNLEY'S are ever on the look out for some rarity or luxury to gratify their customers. Next Monday they will open a fine lot of delicious Pine Apples.

Rain, Rain, and that continually. It does seem as if we should never have settled weather. That day was fine, the sun shone brilliantly, and the novelty of the sensation put everybody in good spirits, and led to numerous prognostications of fine weather, sunshine, seed time and harvest. But alas, for the instability of human hopes! Yesterday morning we had a tremendous storm, the heaviest we have experienced for years; the rain fell in torrents, our streets were perfectly inundated, and all hopes of settled weather were summarily dispelled and washed away in the raging flood.

We still entertain hopes that we may have some dry weather this summer, and believe there is yet a good time coming;—but we are not at present prepared to fix the exact time when it shall arrive.

Lectures on Phrenology, &c—By the notice in another column it will be seen that Professor Palmer will commence a course of lectures on Phrenology, Physiology, and Physiognomy on Tuesday evening next, at Colerick's Hall. He will also give charts showing the phrenological developements of those who desire to know what their capacities are, and how best to improve them. His subject is an interesting one, and as the Lectures are free, we presume he will have good audiences.

☞ We acknowledge the receipt of a bottle of Old London Dock Gin, from Messrs. Wall, Meyer, & Co. It is warranted to be perfectly pure, and is put up especially as a safe and reliable medicine for family use. We have not yet been under the necessity of testing it, but have no doubt that it is all it purports to be,—not only a good medicine, but also far better to take than the medicines usually put up in drug stores.

Wall & Meyer keep a supply of other liquors, warranted pure, expressly for medical uses.

ELENA; or an Antique Tale. By EMMA CARRA J. Frank & Co. publishers, Boston. Price $1 00.

This is a neatly printed and very readable story of early pioneer life in New England, and is prolific in its descriptions of incidents peculiar to that most interesting period of our history. The characters are strongly drawn, and yet they are true to nature, and many of its scenes are founded upon facts.

The Central Christian Herald says of it:—"This is a pleasantly written story, and is free from those high wrought descriptions which make so many novels vitiating in their influence. Its pictures of home life in New England, a century or more ago, are no doubt truthful, and therefore instructive"

For sale at C. L. HILL'S Book Store.

☞ In our last we announced the suicide, at Delphi, of Moses D Gridley of this city. A writer in the Delphi Times attributes the melancholy event entirely to the misguided and foolish interference of the spiritualists, who it appears infest that town in great numbers, and were allowed to operate on the unhappy man. We certainly think his friends acted very injudiciously in allowing spiritualists to have access to him, or in any way to operate upon him; nor can we account for it in another way, than that they were believers in the doctrine that "like cures like." The Delphi News says:

Some weeks ago Mr. Gridley, then residing at Fort Wayne, was, upon an inquest, as provided for under the statute, declared to be insane, and the unfortunate man was placed in charge of some of his friends to be conveyed to Indianapolis On the way, the person having him in charge at Delphi, where he has a brother and sister residing, and where his father also at present makes his home. Here he was kept for about four weeks at the urgent solicitation of the leading spiritualists of the place in order that a trial of the efficacy of spiritual pathetizing and spiritual pow-wowing in restoring his reason might be made by some deluded fanatics here, who vainly and arrogantly suppose themselves, through the influence of the spirits, to be clothed with supernatural power. From the very moment of their commencing operations upon him, he grew weaker and more melancholy, and during the progress of their experiments was at times almost deprived of the faculty of speech: The measures prescribed by these fanatics were so assiduously persevered in that they succeeded in shutting out the few rays of light that occasionally cheered his mental vision, and in that dark hour he committed the act which ushered him "unannounced and unannealed" into the presence of his Creator, leaving a large circle of friends, and an affectionate wife sunk in inconsolable grief

There appears to be a tendency to insanity in this family; but it is of that mild character which readily yields to proper treatment, and we cannot for a moment doubt, but that if Mr. Gridley had been immediately conveyed to the Hospital, and the spiritualists here not been allowed to tamper with him, he would soon have been restored sound in mind and body to his unhappy wife and family who now mourn his untimely end.

Gov. Wright's Confirmation!—We notice that several papers in the State, assuming that Gov. Wright's appointment will not be confirmed or sent into the Senate for confirmation, are discussing the matter with a good deal of acrimony Would it not be wiser policy to wait, to have the matter definitely settled, as it will be in a few weeks, and then be governed by the case? Because Gov. Wright's appointment has not yet been acted upon, it is not a satisfactory reason that it will not be. Other appointments made previous to his have not been sent to the Senate for confirmation, and we here of no expression of sensitiveness in the matter. If Gov. Wrights appointment be confirmed, all occasion for reflections upon the appointing power is removed. If the President should not submit the appointment for confirmation, his reasons for so doing will probable be developed, and upon these reasons we must Judge the propriety of his action. If the nomination is sent into the Senate and it is not confirmed by that body, the considerations which influenced their determination will undoubtedly be made public. Upon the facts presented we must judge the case, in that event.

The Senate during the remainder of the prescribed session will probable devote their time almost exclusively to Legislation. In case Congress adjourns upon the 7th proxime, an executive session of the Senate will, doubtless be held to act specially upon all appointments which have not been submitted to it. So it may yet be several weeks before the unsubmitted and unconfirmed appointments are acted upon.—Ind., State Sentinel.

NEW YORK, May 28.

A dispatch to the Herald says a preliminary meeting of politicians from all parts of the country, was held yesterday, in Washington, with a view to a settlement of a programme for a general union of the opponents of the Administration. An address will soon be issued.

The Courier correspondent says that Government expects important intelligence from England by the next steamer. It is understood that Lord Napier gives his opinion that his government will contend for the right of visitation: as distinct from the right of search. Should despatches from Mr Dallas confirm that expectation the relations of the two countries will suddenly approach a casus belli. The Administration promises to meet this contingency with vigor.—The intimations thrown out are that orders will be given to bring in, for adjudication, all British armed vessels committing acts of outrage on our commerce.

Mr Douglass is authorized by the committee on Territories to prepare bills establishing territorial governments in Dacotah and Arizona, to be submitted at a further meeting.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, May 22.

HOUSE. The consideration of the Minnesota election case, pending at adjournment, yesterday, was resumed.

Mr. Harris, of Illinois, by the request of the Committee on Elections, submitted the certificate of George L. Becker, which Mr. Stanton had discovered in the Clerk's office, while looking over papers there; also, a letter from Governor Medary and Joseph R. Brown, one of the canvassers, saying that Messrs Phelps and Cavanaugh received the highest number of votes, referring to Mr. Greeley's Almanac for figures.

Mr. Harris said that the Committee understood that. They were instructed to inquire simply into the prima facie rights of Messrs. Phelps and Cavanaugh, leaving their seats open to contest.

Mr Washburn, of Maine, offered a resolution declaring that Messrs. Phelps and Cavanaugh were not entitled to be admitted and sworn Negatived by 51 majority.

The question was then taken on the resolution of the majority of the Committee on Elections that Messrs. Phelps and Cavanaugh be sworn in provided that this shall not be considered as precluding any contest of their right to seats, which may be hereafter instituted by persons having a right to do so. Adopted—yeas 135, nays 63.

Messrs. Phelps and Cavanaugh were then sworn in.

Mr. Campbell called up the Ohio contested election case.

The Committee on Elections were unable to agree on any proposition—Messrs. Boyer, Stevensons, Phillips, and Lamar, uniting in the opinion that Vallindigham, is entitled to a seat—Messrs. Washburn of Maine, Clark of Connecticut, Gilmer and Wilson, agree that Campbell should retain his seat, had Mr. Harris, of Illinois, proposing that the seat be declared vacant.

WASHINGTON, May 24.

HOUSE.—The House proceeded to the consideration of business relating to the district of Columbia, in accordance with a special order.

The bill to regulate municipal elections in Washington gave rise to an animated debate, during which Mr. Davis of Maryland, said the President, Mayor, and other municipal officers, were vicious, corrupt and unfit for the places they hold, and the floating temporary Government vote elected them.

He vindicated the Americans, and denounced the calling out of the marines last June, to the election, and consequent bloodshed.

Mr. Burnet replied that was notorious that the reign of Terror prevailed here at that time, owing to the arrival of rowdies from Baltimore, armed with deadly weapons.

Mr Marshall of Ky, replied to so much of Mr. Burnet's remarks as referred to the Louisville riots, saying that they originated with foreigners, whose cold blooded purpose was destruction of human life. He denied utterly that there is now, or ever has been anything like a political proscription in Americanism, properly understood.

Mr. Burnet proceeded to show that Mr. Marshall did not give a correct history of the Louisville riots, and charged murder and incendiarism on the American party

The Elective and other district bills were considered and laid aside for further action

SENATE.—Mr. Douglas of Ill., introduced a bill facilitating communication between the Atlantic and Pacific States by telegraph.

Mr. Douglas also introduced the following important bill, having reference to British and Mexican aggressions. It reads as follows:

"A bill to restrain and redress outrages upon the flag and citizens of the United States—Be it enacted, &c., that in case of fragrant violations of the laws of nations by outrages upon the flag soil or citizens of the United States, or upon their property, under circumstances requiring prompt redress; and when, in the opinion of the President, delay would be incompatible with the honor and dignity of the Republic, the President is hereby authorized to employ such force as he may deem necessary, to prevent the perpetration of such outrages, and to obtain just redress and satisfaction for the same when perpetrated, and it shall be his duty to lay the fact of each case, together with the reasons for his actions in the premises, before Congress, at the earliest practicable moment, for further action thereon as Congress may direct."

The majority of the Committee on the Judiciary reported that Senators Bright and Fitch, of Indiana were entitled to their seats.

Mr. Pugh of Ohio, moved that the report be printed.

Mr Trumbull of Ill., one of the minority of the committee, wished to know what documents were to be printed

Some Parliamentary skirmishing ensued, ending by Mr. Pugh, requesting to be excused from serving on the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Hunter of Virginia, called up the bill authorizing a loan of fifteen million dollars by the Secretary of the Treasury. He advocated its passage in the expectation that in some months trade would gain its activity, and the revenue will be revived. Even at the present, rates show a surplus, providing economy be used in the administration of the Government.

Mr Wilson replied, showing that Mr. Hunter's estimates for the coming revenue, were exaggerated, and that the actual probabilities are that it will not exceed fifty or fifty-five millions, when the expenditures being seventy-five millions will leave a deficiency, for actual outlay, of 25 millions exclusive of over twenty millions, of treasury notes; in other words money must be provided to meet the demand of one hundred millions of dollars. He (Wilson) prophesied that another loan was inevitable before January next. He moved to strike out the fifth section, appointing two additional clerks, which was carried—yeas 26, nays 20.

Mr. Wilson also moved to reduce the estimate form printing the notes from $20,000 to $5,000, also carried—yeas 27, nays 21,

Mr. Rigler moved to amend by making a coupon loan, whic was agreed to.

Mr. Cameron said that the coupon bonds would be more readily taken and at a lower rate He therefore, would reduce a rate of interest from six to five per cent. Carried yeas 38, nays 14.

Mr Simmons introduced a lenghly amendment with reference to the qaluation of imports for duties, which was ordered to be printed

Mr. Hunter seemed disposed to raise the question of order, but without taking any action, the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, May 25.

HOUSE.—A resolution offered by Mr Marshall of Kentucky for the postponement of the Ohio contested election case was rejected by 26 maj.

A resolution of Mr Gilmore of North Carolina, member of the committee on elections, declaring that Mr. Campbell is entitled to a seat was rejected by 25 majority.

A resolution of Mr Lamar, also of the Committe that Mr Vallandigham is entitled to the seat, was adopted by 4 maj.

A resolution by Mr Harris, declaring the seat vacant as just amended by Mr Lamar's proposition, was agreed to by 7 maj

Mr. Vallandigham was then sworn in.

The House, on motion of J Glancey Jones of Pennsylvania, acted on the Senate amendments to the executive, judicial and legislative appropriation bills.

Another Pea-Nut War.—The Railroad war in Erie Co. Pa., has commenced again. A large number of citizens of Harbor Creek, having turned out one day last week and forcibly removed the rails of the Buffalo and Erie R. R.; from all the highways in that vicinity. The Railroad Co. had commenced relaying the track, and further disturbance was anticipated.

WASHINGTON, May 22

The bill reported by Mr. Hunter, in the Senate gives authority to the President, any time within twelve months from the passage of the act, to borrow $15,000,000, with the proviso that no contract shall be made to prevent the United States from reimbursing the sum borrowed at any time after the expiration of 15 years from the 1st of January next. The stock to be issued bearing interest not exceeding six per centum—none to be issued in a less sum than $100, which may be transferred on the books of the Treasury under such regulations as may be established by the Secretary of the Treasury. Whenever required, the Secretary may cause coupons of semi-annual interest to be attached to certificates, assigned or transferred. The Secretary is to give public notice for bids of not less than thirty days, and accept the most favorable from responsible bidders. No stock to be disposed of at less than par value, as the faith of the United States is pledged for the payment of interest or redemption of principal. The bill authorizes the employment of two additional clerks, and appropriates $20,000 to meet the expenses incurred in the execution of the law.

WASHINGTON, May 26.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs had under consideration, yesterday, various propositions for giving the President more power to suppress outrages upon American commerce They are unanimous and decided in their views, and will report in favor of giving the President full power in the premises The Committee also considered Mr Slidell's proposition to abrogate that clause of the Ashburton treaty which requires the United States to maintain a naval force on the coast of Africa.—The prop sition was rejected. Mason, Slidell and Polk voted yea—and Foote, Crittenden, Douglas and Seward, nay.

On the 17th of April a party of Mexicans from Messila Valley attacked a party of Apache Indians near Fort Thom, and butchered indiscriminately, men, women and children Lieut. Howard, of Fort Thom captured the Mexicans and held them prisoners at the Fort.

The Republican learns that Montgomery's band of robbers in Kansas have in contemplation the robbery of the Indian Agent, Timary who is about distributing annuities to the amount of four thousand dollars among the Sac and Fox Indians.

The robbers are now concentrating on the Osage river, about 6 miles from the Sac and Fox agency.

Mr Timary has asked a military escort from Gen Harney to conduct him from Kansas City to the agency and to protect all parties during the distribution of the money.

The officers of the steamer "Polar Star" report that a strong force had surprised Montgomery's band, near Fort Scott, and killed 11 of them—This, however, needs confirmation,

ST LOUIS, May 26

Indian Troubles.—A dispatch from Nebraska City, (23d) says that intelligence has been received from Gate county that a conflict had just occurred between the settlers and the Kioway Indians, in which one Chief was killed and a number of stolen horses were captured. There was much complaint of Indian depredations in that region.

ST LOUIS, May 27.

The last detachment of troops for Utah under command of Maj Paul, numbering 210 men, left Jefferson barracks last night for Fort Leavenworth.

A letter to the Democrat, dated Leavenworth, May 23, says there is no intermission in the preparatory labors of the troops, consequent upon the recent intelligence from Salt Lake, and judging from the movements at the Fort, no counter-mand is anticipated. The head quarters will not be moved before 15 or 20 days. It is understood, however, that Gen Harney may proceed in advance of his staff, passing the several columns on the route. Col Crossman, Qar. Master General, is ordered to proceed with the fourth column under Col Morrison; and Maj Babbitt, Adt. General, is to be stationed at Ft. Laramie, whither he goes immediately.

Defeat of Montgomery's Free State Banditti!—10 Men Killed!!—The Westport correspondent of the St Louis Republican states that Capt Hamilton and some 20 others, who had been driven from Linn co, by Montgomery's men, after placing their families in safety in Missouri, determined to return to the Territory to look after and protect their property. On approaching Chouteau's trading post, on the morning of the 19th, a party stationed at that place, mistaking them for Montgomery's men, came out and met them, when they were all taken prisoners From one of them Hamilton learned that a number of the robbers were stationed at Snyders, a fortified post, a short distance from Chouteau's post Under promise that they would return home, the prisoners were disarmed and released Hamilton's party then proceeded to Snyder's house, which was situated in a ravine flanked by rocky walls. Dividing into two parties, they approached it in opposite directions, and hearing guns fired on the side of the hill, they charged on the spot, where they found the men they had just released, who had taken a short cut for Snyder's after arming themselves at a neighboring house. A fight ensued; resulting in the death of 10 of the robbers, among them Capt Reid, one of Montgomery's board at Commissioners before whom all prisoners are tried.—In a few minutes, the main force in Snyder's house rushed to the woods and escaped.

This correspondent distinctly states that not a Missourian took part in the affair. All of Hamilton's party were men who had been driven from the Territory a few days before.

The Southern Flood.—The New Orleans Crescent, of last Saturday, says that all efforts to stop Labranche crevasse in the Parish of St. Charles have been abandoned. An immense section section of country has been inundated and the inundation will continue to spread until the subsidence of the waters. The damage done and to be done by that and the Bell crevasse must be estimated by millions.

From the Vicksburgh Southron, of the same date, we learn that the levee of A. M. Gwin, of Issaquena County, had given was for a space of about four hundred yards in extent The damage will be most serious to him, as well as disastrous to a number of our friends below him.

Benson Blake, of Warren County, has had 4 or 5 hundred acres submerged by the breaking of one of his levees. His levees cost him not less than $30,000.

The Western and Southern Floods.—The latest mails still bring us accounts of the ravages of the floods, West and South. The great flood in the Wabash, the greatest known in thirty years, mention of which has already been made, was abating on Friday at Vincennes. The levees at Belgrade and other points had been broken, and the waters of that river were working almost as much damage as the mighty Mississippi in its overflow.

A New Cut-off.—The Mississippi River during the last high water broke the levee at American Bend, destroying the plantation of a Mr. Johnson on the Arkansas side. The gap is about three hundred yards wide and twenty-five or thirty feet deep, and is widening and deepening every day. The body of the river will be changed, and the cut-off will be a saving of at least twelve miles.

The last crevasse near Mr A. Bougere's plantation is irremediable; it is suffered to do its worst. A crevasse on Alexander Hendersen's plantation, below Vidalia, was such a break as to defy all attemps at repair. It rushes through with a torrent, the roar of which can be heard at a considerable distance, and the force of the volume of water is sufficient to uproot trees in the fields over which it precipitates itself.

Tough Yarns About the Illinois Storm.—The Peoria Transcript is determined make the most of the "big item," lately occurring in Illinois. Among the incidents detailed in a late number, we find the following:

The tornado, in its progress performed some curious freaks At El Paso, on the Eastern extension railroad, it blew some houses to splinters, and yet broke not one pan of glass in the windows it carried some distance. At Kappa two ladies were blown away, and have not since been heard from. They probably wore hoops. At Chenoa it demolished a house completely, and yet left a book case that was in it without a scratch or a broken pane of glass. It carried a large mirror sixty feet and laid it down unbroken. The next morning after the storm a man was seen to crawl from under a barn, who, after being questioned, stated that as he was coming across the prairie the wind picked him up and carried him half a mile, setting him down in a pond for feet deep; he waded out and got on a little rise of ground, when the wind took him again, and hurried him with violence against the side of the barn, under which he crawled and spent the night.

The most wonderful feat of all, however, occurred at Chenoa. A farm house was blown two jumps, up no less than three hundred feet from where it stood, and sat down so easily that the plastering was not cracked or the dishes knocked off the table, which was set for supper. A similar occurrence took place at Gilmore, where a kitchen was blown from the side of a house into a slough, without a plate broken, and when our informant left, the inmates were journeying back and forth on a raft, to get the cooking utensils for breakfast.

The Erritish Cruisers in the Gulf.

However much allowance we may be disposed to make for exaggeration in the statements of the captains of the various American vessels which are said to have been boarded and searched, and several of them fired into, by British armed vessels in the Gulf of Mexico and the adjacent waters, within the last three weeks, it is scarcely possible that their statements are wholly unfounded, and that none of the outrages complained of ever took place.

The following is a list of the vessels whose captains declare that they have been stopped at sea (most of them fired into) and searched by the officers and crews of cruisers belonging to the navy of Great Britain:

Brig Robert Wing,	Ship Tropic Bird,
Schooner Wingold,	Bark Clara Windsor,
Schooner Cortez,	Bark Glenburn,
Schooner N. B. Borden,	Bark W. H. Chandler,
Schooner Mobile.

Twelve other vessels also boarded and searched in the harbor of Sagua la Grande.

It is difficult to believe that the British officers commanding the cruisers would dare to arrest and search vessels carrying the American flag, even for the purpose of testing their right to carry it, unless they were expressly ordered to do so by the Admiralty; and it is equally difficult to imagine how the British Government, knowing, as they must, the invincible determination of the American people to resist at all hazards the claim of any foreign power to arrest, board and examine American vessels for any purpose whatever, could issue any such orders, the execution of which must inevitably result in a serious controversy between the two countries. As we have already stated, the fact that the American flag is used by vessels engaged in the slave trade, as a protection from the consequences of detection in that iniquitous traffic, is no justification for the detention and insult of American vessels engaged in lawful trade The American people have already fought for and bled in defense of the right of their vessels to the perfect freedom of the seas, and sooner than forfeit that right, they would take arms again as one man. The doctrine which we maintain is distinctly laid down in Secretary Cass' letter to Lork Napier, of the 10th of April, 1858, from which we extract the following:

"To permit a foreign officer to board the vessel of another power, to assume command in her, to call for and examine her papers, to pass judgment upon her character, to decide the broad inquiry whether she is navigated according to law, and to send her in at pleasure for trial, can not be submitted to by any independent nation without injury and dishonor. The United States deny the right of the cruisers of any other power whatever, for any purpose whatever, to enter their vessels by force in time of peace."

This doctrine, we are convinced, our Government will calmly, but firmly enforce. Steps have been already taken in this direction. Orders have been issued to the American squadron in the Gulf of Mexico and the Central American waters, to put a stop to the boarding and searching of American merchant vessels by foreign ships of war; and the President has demanded explanations from the governments of England and Spain, with regard to the outrages said to have been committed on vessels entitled to carry the United States flag, in the vicinity of Cuba We are persuaded that the Administration will act with perfect prudence and a due regard to the national honor, and that if, on inquiry, the charges brought against the British officers by the American shipmasters whose vessels have been subjected to detention and search, prove well founded, redress will be demanded, and adequate security against a repetition of the offense.

We are in favor of the most tenacious maintainance of the freedom of our ships on the seas: but we are not prepared, en mere ex parte statements, to recommend, as some of our cotemporaries do, an immediate resort to warlike measures We hope and trust that an inquiry may be made into the facts, with all the gravity the subject demands, but with perfect courtesy and good temper: that the wrong may be established beyond a doubt, and fitting redress demanded and refused, before a resort to force is even spoken of. We are great and powerful enough to assert our rights and uphold our dignity, without the use to swaggering and bluster. We have no right to take it for granted that the British Government intended deliberately to insult our flag and provoke a quarrel with us Let us rather suppose that mistaken orders have been issued, or that the officers of the British cruisers have mistaken the meaning of their orders, and hence the trouble. It will be time enough to get into a passion and want to fight, when we find that we have been willfully insulted, and that our first demand has been refused. Coolness, dignity and forbearance can not injure our cause, they can but add to its strength and justice

Another Vessel Boarded.—Capt Gray, of the schooner Mary Blank, arrived at Boston, reports, that while at Sagua, his vessel was boarded by British officers, who departed quietly after making a few enquiries.

The Case of the Indiana Senators.—We are glad to see that the Judicial Committee in the United States Senate have reported favorable to the admission of Messrs. Bright and Fitch, of Indiana, to their seats, which have been contested by certain parties in that State. This report is in accordance with substantial equity, and justice, and we hope to see it adopted. They received eighty-five votes in the Indiana Legislature for United States Senators, at a joint convention of the two Houses. Some sixty-five members absented themselves willfully from the convention, with the design of breaking up the election, which they knew they would have no power to prevent if they were present. It is time that these efforts of factions minorities in State Legislature to defeat by revolutionary, means, the choice of Senators, received a rebuke or otherwise the Senate may be left some day without a quorum. If every absentee from the Indiana joint convention had been present and voted against Messrs. Bright and Fitch, they still would have been elected. Why then should they not receive their seats?—Cin. Enq.

The Tariff—Direct Taxation.—Mr. Boyce of South Carolina, has made a report in the House of Representatives from the select committee on the tariff, &c It takes ground that a protective policy should be entirely abandoned, and a resort be made as early as possible to direct taxation, as a measure of economy Articles of prime necessity should be taxed at the lowest rate of duty, and the burden be thrown as much as possible upon luxuries. The navigation laws should be so modified as not to require any portion of the officers and crews of American ships to be American seamen. There should be free purchase and sale of foreign built ships on an entire equality with American built ships, and the American coast trade should be open on terms of perfect equality to foreign ships.

The committee say they do not entertain the hope that they can inaugurate the new policy now; such radical changes must be the work of time. They do not, therefore, look so much to immediate practical results as to the effect on public opinion, to ultimately insure the triumph of the principles which they advocate Mr. Garnett does not concur in all the conclusions of the committee

Grand Lodge of Indiana.—The election of officers for the ensuing year took place yesterday, and resulted as follows:

Arrival of the City of Washington.

NEW YORK, May 23.

The steamship City of Washington arrived this evening with Liverpool dates to Wednesday, the 12th inst. The steamship Africa arrived out on the 9th inst.

Great Britain.—Resolutions have been proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Cardwell, and in the House of Lords by Lord Shaftesbury, censuring the government for the publication of their dispatches to the Governor General of India in regard to his first proclamation to the people of Oude. Lord Ellenborough assumed all the responsibility for the act, and resigned his post in the Ministry, which was accepted. The resolutions were to be considered on Thursday, the 13th inst; the day after the sailing of the steamer. The House of Commons had disagreed to amendments of the House of Lords to the Jewish Bill, and admitted Baron Rothschild as a member of their committee to confer with the committee of the House of Lords. Sir Henry Bulwer had been appointed Minister to Constantinople The Hon Edward Erskine has been appointed Secretary of Legation at Washington. The London Times says that the resolutions censuring the government will be supported by Lord John Russell and the Peelite party, as well as by the friends of Lord Palmerston Speculations were rife as to whether the Ministers would resign or dissolve Parliament in the event of the resolutions passing. No doubt seems to be entertained that the proposed vote of censure will be adopted by the House of Commons on Thursday, although it seems almost incredible that a dissolution will either be contemplated or allowed. All of the Atlantic Telegraph cable is on board of the United States steam frigate Niagara and the British frigate Agamemnon. They will depart on an experimental trip to test the machinery on the 25th of May. The expedition was only waiting for the adjustment of the paying-out aparatus The mail steamer Canada, from Africa, had been sunk by a collision with the bark Ida Elizabeth. The captain, two passengers and four seaman were drowned. The remainder, fifty in number, were rescued by the crew of the bark. A serious accident had occurred on the Tocat Valley Railroad, by which three lives were lost and four persons seriously injured The disagreement of the House of Commons with the House of Lords, on the Jewish Bill was carried by a vote of 263 against 150. In the House of Commons, Mr Berksley had given notice of a bill to establish a system of voting by ballot. In response to an inquiry, Mr. Fitzgergald stated that the government had demanded compensation from Naples for the imprisonment of English engineers, but refuse to state the amount.

India.—The Fourth Bengal Light Cavalry, one hundred and sixty strong, had been tried by a court martial, and sixty were sentenced to be hung. The remainder were condemned to transportation for life. Colonel Seatons had beaten the enemy, capturing three guns Rohlicund was in possession of the rebels, who were said to be one thousand strong. The London Stock Exchange was depressed, under the impression that there would be another ministerial crisis, as well as by the continual withdrawal of gold from the continent. There was no alteration in the value of money.

Calcutta.—Dates to April 9 have been received, but are without much importance. A hot weather campain in Rholicund was deemed inevitable.

France.—The second election of the fifth circumscription of Paris had resulted in the succession of the opposition candidate. The Paris Conference had been further posponed for a few days.

LIVERPOOL, May 11.

Markets—Breadstuffs are quoted generally as dull, but steady. Richardson, Spence & Co. quote Flour as dull and nominally unchanged.

Wheat dull at 6s for Red, and 7s a 7s 6d for White. Corn is firm at 36s for White, and 34s 9d a 35s for Yellow. Wakefield & Nash's Circular quotes White Corn at 5d a 1s advance Provisions generally steady. Beef heavy. Pork firm. Bacon firm. Lard quiet and choice lots sold at 37s.

The rush of breadstuffs towards tide water, compared with last year, is very strong. The receipts of flour and wheat at Buffalo, Oswego, and Ogdensburg, New York, this year are 714,175 barrels in excess of the same time last year. This is an excess of flour exceeding the entire exports of that article from New York this year nearly 300,000 barrels. At Chicago, whence such large supplies have been drawn this season, compared with last, the stock of wheat on the 8th inst. was nearly double that it was 9th of May 1857.

☞ The United States steam frigate Colorado left Norfolk on the 12th, with orders to the home squadron, to protect the American vessels in the Gulf of Mexico from the British cruisers. We may very soon, therefore, hear of a collision between a United States ship of war and one or more of the British cruisers. This is inevitable under the orders sent down, unless the British naval commander shall make known his intention to desist from the practice that has been commenced, of boarding our vessels in search of slaves.

B. RANDALL,
PROPRIETOR OF
I. M. SINGER'S
Patent Sewing Machine,

of the State of Pennsylvania (except the counties of Erie, Alleghaney and Philadelphia) State of Wisconsin, and the northern part of Indiana.

THE world wide reputation of these machines renders puffing unnecessary. All who have used Singer's Machines testify to their superior merits over all others. Over 12 000 have been sold and are now in active operation, and not one has proved a failure! By simply changing the needle and thread the same machine will execute perfectly every variety of work, coarse or fine, on cloth or leather. From $200 to $500 a year can be cleared by an individual using this machine more than can be cleared by hand.

Singer has also brought out a new
highly ornamented, which for beauty and expedition far surpasses all other Family Machines. These machines use two threads, forming a lock stitch in the centre of the goods sewed, and making a perfect back stitch on both sides of the cloth, which makes a seam much stronger and harder to rip than hand sewing, and does not use more than two thirds as much thread as the chain stitch machine.

These machines are for sale by the undersigned, at his office on North Fifth Street, opposite Good's Hotel, Reading, Pennsylvania:

Also by T. E EVANSON, Traveling Agent in Indiana. Silk, Needles, Oil, and Thread for sale by T. E. EVANSON,

Washington Territory.—A letter from Vancouver, Washington Territory, confirms first reports of most extensive gold discoveries on Fraser's River, in the vicinnity of Cohille. The correspondent of the San Francisco Herald wrote thus on the 6th ult:

Already a large extent of mining country, which will paywell, has been discovered; and he is satisfied that the whole extent of country north, through the British Possessions, will furnish gold in abundance. Of the truth of this I have no doubt, as I am assured by Mr. Manson, who is now here, and who has had charge of one of the Hudson Bay Company's post in the interior of what is called New Caledonia. Mr. M. has just returned from that section of the country, and came down Frazer's River. He says the miners on the tributaries of Frazer's River are making from $10 to $100 per day—there being a large extent of mining country—and that hundreds were flocking there. One man named Adams told Mr. M. that there was one single tongue or point of land projecting into the waters, supposed to be a mountain-slide, which would give employment to one thousand men for years, and its supposed that it will pay from $20 to $200 a day to the hand. The rush of parties to these mines has been so great that he says there is not a canoe to be had from the tribes of Indians who are near the entrance of Frazer's River.

Infadit Applying for a Divorce.—In New York, on Monday, very amusing petition for a divorce was presented to the Supreme Court, which may be taken as highly illustrative of our age of progress. Edward Ayres, an infant, aged 14, applied by petition to have a guardian appointed to prosecute a suit for a divorce from his—the petitioner's not the guardian's—wife. The Judge having read the papers, inquired how old the interesting lady defendant might be and was informed she was about sixteen. The Judge then granted the prayer of the petition.

Growing Potatoes Under Straw.—Having seen, in the agricultural journals, more than a year ago, reports of extraordinary success in raising potatoes by covering them with straw, I was induced to try a small experiment which I will relate for the benefit of some of your readers.

A plot in my garden, about fifty feet square, of well-manured, clayed loam, was nicely spaded up and made fine and smooth. It was then marked out in shallow drills, two feet and a half apart, and potatoes (of the pinkeye variety) planted whole, two feet apart in the drills, and barely covered with earth. The whole patch was then covered with dry wheat straw—which had been very much broken by its passage through a threshing machine—and the same spread lightly and evenly with a pitchfork, to the depth of about two feet. Several showers occurred soon after the potatoes were planted, which settled the straw very considerably and in due time the vines came up through the straw, and soon covered the entire surface with the rankest vegetation.

Nothing now was done to the patch till the vines were killed by frost in autumn. Not a weed appears among them. At the usual time of digging potatoes, the dead vines were all pulled and removed; then, with a potatoe fork, the layer of straw—which was pretty well rotted, and not more than four our five inches in thickness—was carefully removed. To my great surprise, there lay the potatoes on the surface, literally covering the ground, and almost as clean as if they had been washed. They were picked up and measured, but the quantity I do not remember. This, much however, I will recollect that I never raised so good a crop by any other mode of culture. They were of very uniform size, and of good quality.

S. MOSHER.

Latonia Springs, Ky., March 1858

Undoubtedly the above method of growing potatoes is worthy of further trial, especially by those who live in warm latitute. Protected by the straw from the scorching rays of the sun, the ground would naturally remain moist and cool—thus providing for the potato-roots those conditions of soil best adopted to their growth.—Ohio Valley Farmer.

The American Horse Tamer's System Explained—On the 21st, at Astley's Amphitheater, in London, Mr William Cooke, the equestrian, undertook to exemplify Professor Rarey's system of breaking, subduing, and training unmanageable and vicious horses. There was, consequently, a crowded house, the boxes particularly being well filled. We take the following accounts of what took place from the Morning Advertiser: "Mr Wm Cooke informed the audience that, having advertised his intention of exhibiting Professor Rarey's principle of subduing horses, by experimenting on any horse that might be sent him, a horse had been sent to him that morning for the purpose. A full grown horse—a hunter—was then led in, and the following simple mode of operation was adopted: A strap is attached to the fetlock of the right foreleg, and drawn over the animal's right shoulder, whethe it is held by Mr Cooke. The left leg is then bent inwards, so as to bring the hoof in contact with the thigh, and made fast in that position by a strap and buckle. Mr Cooke then, taking the reins in his left hand, and bringing the strap attached to the horse's foreleg into a state of tension, urges the animal to walk on his three legs. Holding the reins tight, and so as to incline the head to the left, the horse is forced to make a journey twice round the circus. At this time he exhibits symptoms of great exhaustion, goes on his knees, and ultimately lies down in the most submissive manner. He is then relieved from the inconvenient and unaccustomed restrictions imposed upom him by the straps, and Mr Cooke lies upon him in a recumbent position, and caresses him, and his pattings are received by the horse with such indications of gratification as to leave no doubt that the most friendly relations are established between the parties.

Cooling Rooms—The warm weather will shortly be here, and every one will be seeking the refreshing influence of a cool and shady place, whereunto they can retreat from the blazing sun; so we will give our readers a few hints concerning the cooling of their houses. The first necessity is a thorough draught. This can always be obtained by opening every door and window in the basement, the top of every window above, and by throwing every door wide open; but, above all, be sure that the trap door in the roof is open, and there is plenty of air room from it down stairs, so that whichever be the direction of the wind there will be at least one ascending current of air in the house. Another requisite is shade. Our common slat shutters answer well for the windows; but the most cheap and convenient shelter for the roof is to cover it thickly with straw, dried reeds, or rushes. These will resist the influence of the noon day sun, and keep the garret as cool as the basement. One of the most simple methods, and at the same time cheapest means of artificially lowering the temperature of the room is to wet a cloth of any size, the larger the better, and suspend it in the place you want cool; let the room be well ventilated and the temperature will sink from ten to twenty degrees in less than half an hour. The above hints will be useful to many, and as a last suggestion we will inform the reader that in summer it is well to keep a solution of chloride of lime in the house, and occasionally sprinkle it in the more frequented parts, as the passages and stairs.—Scientific American.

Preserving Flowers.—Our fair readers, all of whom we know love flowers—the season of which is now at hand—will be interested in the following manner of preserving them from wilting, which a cotemporary assures us is highly successful. The plan is this: Procure a flat dish of porcelain, into which pour water; place upon it a vase of flowers, and over the vase a bell glass with its rim in the water. The air that surrounds the flowers being confined beneath the bell glass, is constantly moist with water, that rises into it in the form of vapor. As fast as the water becomes condensed it runs down the side of the bell glass into the dish; and if means be taken enclose the water on the out side of the bell glass, so as to prevent it evaporating into the air of the sitting room, the atmosphere around the flowers is continually damp. The plan is designated the "Hopean Apparatus." The experiment may be tried on a small scale by inverting a tumbler over a rosebud in a saucer of water.

☞ Those who cultivate Strawberries, and every man that has a garden should have a strawberry bed, should remember that if they desire vines to bear fruit, they must prevent them from running. It is a fact that the vines will not bear fruit while runners are permitted to go unchecked. Pinch off the runners as fast as they appear and you will have fruit all summer. It would also be well to bear in mind, that strawberries are remarkably fond of water—water freely in a dry time, and they will do much better.

Sufferers from Piles now have a remedy at hand which will

without the fair of failure on its part to do all the proprietor claims for it,

Full directions accompanying each box; and all that is requisite is strictly to observe them, and a cure is certain to follow.

The proprietor refers to the following testimonials from gentlemen of character and standing, who have voluntarily given their certificates in its favor in regard to its efficacy in their own cases. Read them

The following is from one of the most reliable citizens of Chicago, the late Treasurer of Cook County, Illinois:

Chicago, July 25, 1855.

Dr. Cavanaugh:—Dear Sir,—I wish hereby to make known to the afflicted that I have been troubled with the Piles for twenty years and upwards, and at times most severely. And during a recent and exceedingly painful attack a friend procured a box of your Salve, and asked me to give it a trial. I did so; not however with the expectation of benefiting my disease, for truly, I had tried so many applications I had lost confidence in all. But in making use of your Salve, I soon found that it was doing me good; and really it is incredible to myself, that with only about two weeks' use of your Salve, I am so far as I can judge a well man.

I most cheerfully make this statement, believing it due both to yourself and such as may be afflicted with this most painful and trying disease. I do not hesitate to say that I consider your preparation an invaluable remedy for the Piles.

Most sincerely yours, J. N. N. HEALD.

The Hon Richard Yates, late member of Congress from the Springfield, Ill., district, says:

Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 15, 1855.

Dr. Thos. H. Cavanaugh.—Dear Sir,—The preparation, Cavanaugh's Pile Salve, which you furnished, I found of great service, producing an easy and speedy cure. I do not hesitate to recommend it as an invaluable remedy for the Piles.

Respectfully, RICHARD YATES.

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Constipation Flatulency, Loss of Appetite or any Billious Complaints arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels producing Cramps Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c. &c.

All of these ills yield like magic toits vilifying influence upon the system, and for a person in advanced years, or recovering from sickness of any kind, nothing can be more conducive to their convalescence than the use of these Bitters as per directions on the bottles.

Scarcely four years have elapsed since the first introduction of "Dr. J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters" to the public, and such has been the success of this article after its tested efficacy by a discriminating public, that during the last year nearly half a million bottles were sold, with a continuous demand in excess of the supply with all the facilities the proprietors have been able to command in its preparation.

Are you dyspeptic? Then take these Stomach Bitters.

Are you billious? Try one bottle of these Bitters, and be relieved at once.

Are you annoyed by indigestion or constipation? Remove the cause by the free use of these Bitters

Have you fever and ague? How many thousands in the West and South have been cured of this constitution-destroying disease by the free use of these Bitters!

All should try this great Anidote. We venture to affirm that, when Hostetters's Stomach Bitters are used, a case of Fever and Ague cannot occur: therefore, no family consulting their own interest can afford to do without it.

A WORD TO THE LADIES

In recommending to your use Dr J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters, it is but just to state that as a simulant to the system, in imparting strength and vigor, preparatory to periodical stages, which are of times attended with much pain and trouble, we know of no preperation more happily adapted to all afflictions consequent upon this cause, and for cramps in stomach, cholera morbus, and all ailments arising from over indulgence in fruits, vegetables, ice creams, &c., it is certain and almost instantaneous remedy, and no family should be without it.

One wineglassful taken three times each before meals, or half the buantity in the patients are in a weak condition, and increased in proportion to their strength, will be found a great tonic agent, which all will appreciate when personally satisfied of the facts, as they will be by giving the Bitters one trial

Carefulness should be our study, but more particularly when the health is at stake. Since these Bitters have, from their medical qualities, become so popular, there have been a great many concoctions called Stomach Bitters, and often represented to be the same in virtue as Dr. Hostetter's, palmed upon the public. Be careful of these vilainous compounds! Our Bitters are put up in square quart bottles and covered with the patent metallic cap, stamped "Hostetter's Stomach Bitters," and Dr J Hostetter blown on the glass. All others are imitation.

THE FROG.

Of all the funny things that live
In woodland, marsh or bog;
That creep the ground, or fly the air,
The funniest thing's the frog
The frog—the scientificest
Of Nature's handiwork—
The frog that neither walks nor runs,
But goes it with a jerk.

With pants and coats of bottle green,
And yellow, fancy vest,
He plunges into mud and mire—
All in his Sunday best.
When he sits down, he's standing up,
As Paddy O'Rian once said;
And for convenience sake he wears
His eyes on top his head.

You see him sitting on a log,
Above the "vasty deep,"
You feel inclined to say, "old chap!"
Just look before you leap!"
You raise your cane to hit him on
His ugly looking mug,
But ere you get it half way up,
Adown he goes kerchug.

He keeps about his native pond,
And ne'er goes on a spree;
Nor gets "how came you so," for a
Cold water chap is he;
For earthly cares he ne'er gets drunk;
He's not a silly fool;
But when they come, he gives a jump,
And drowns 'em in the pool.

ROAD LAW.

We copy from the De Kalb Democrat the following abstract of the Road Laws and duties of Road Supervisors, compiled by the Auditor of that County, and which, he says, contains all the information that is required to enable Road Supervisors to discharge their duties according to Law. It will be found of interest not only to supervisors but to every person subject to do road work, and is worth cutting out and preserving:

DUTIES OF SUPERVISORS,

SEC. 5. Such supervisor shall take an oath before entering upon the discharge of his duties; for the faithful performance thereof; he shall carry into effect all the orders of the trustees of the township in which the road district is situate touching the highways and bridges therein, and keep the same in good repair; he shall also call out all persons in such district liable to work on the highways therein, superintend the work thereon, and see that the same is faithfully performed, sue for and collect all fines all fines and commutation money due such district.

SEC 6. Such suprervisor shall call out all male persons except insane, idiots, deaf and dumb, and blind persons, in such district who are residents of this State, and over the age of twent-one and under fifty years, and not exempt from such labor, during two days in the months of May and June of each year, and shall require each and such persons to work on the highways in such district eight hours each day, and to furnish in such labor any tool the supervisors may direct, if the demand therefor be a reasonable one.

SEC. 7. Such supervisor may require any person liable to work, on such highways, who may be the owner of an ox or horse team, and a plow, cart, or wagon, to furnish the same and a driver in such labor upon such highway, and such person shall receive such credit for three days' labor therefor, and be receipted accordingly by such supervisor.

SEC 8. The supervisor of such district shall make out, within ten days after he is qualified, a list of all the persons in such district liable to work on the highways thereof, and present the same to the clerk of such township, who shall enter the same on the record book thereof. Such Supervisor shall notify each person within his road district liable to work on the highways thereof, by verbel or written notice, and if written, to be left at the residence of such person of the time and place of working on such highways, at least three days prior to the time designated for such working.

SEC. 9. On application to the township trustees, any person liable to work on highways may be exempt therefrom, if it be shown that he is unable, from bodily infirmity, to work there on, and that he is too poor to pay the commutation therefor; also, any person belonging to any legally organized fire company; and in such cases the clerk of such township shall execute to such person a certificate thereof, which shall on being presented to the supervisor, entitle him to such exemption.

SEC. 10. Any person liable to work on highways may be exempted therefrom by paying the supervisor of his road district one dollar for each day he is liable to work thereon, and in such case he shall be receipted therefor by the supervisor, which receipt shall be filed with the township clerk, which supervisor shall be authorized to employ some person or persons to work out such money at the rate of seventy-five cents per day on the roads of his district, or failing to do so, he shall pay over all such money into the township treasury. Such supervisor within ten days after warning the hands liable to work in such district, shall bring suit in the name of the township in which such district is situate, against such persons as fail to work or pay over the commutation money therfor, before any justice of the township and in such suit it shall only be necessary for an account stating the number of days which such person so failed and charging one dollar per day each therefor, to be filed as a cause of action; and in case of recovery, by such supervisor, the judgment shall be rendered for one dollar for every day the defendant so failed, and costs of suit, and no stay of execution or benefit of valuation or appraisement laws, shall be allowed on such judgment; and in case such supervisor shall fail to bring such suit, he shall forfeit and pay the sum of ten dollars, to be recovered before any of the justice township in the name thereof, and all moneys so recovered under the provisions of this section, shall be paid into the township treasury by such supervisor; and in case he shall fail to pay over such money within ten days after the receipt thereof, he shall be prosecuted by such treasurer under the statute regulating the punishment of those guilty of neglect of official duty and shall be liable to its penalty.

SEC. 11. All money collected by virtue of the preceding section, shall be credited on such clerk's books to such road district; and shall be applied to the improvement of the highways thereof, under such regulations as such trustees shall adopt.

SEC. 12. Any person liable to perform labor on the public highways, when notified for such purpose, may appear in person, or by an able bodied substitute, and the person or substitute so appearing, shall actually work eight hours in each day, under a penalty of twelve and a half cents for every hour such person or substitute shall be in default, to be deducted by the supervisor for the price of the day's labor.

SEC. 13. If any such person or his substitute after appearing, shall remain idle or not work faithfully, or shall hinder others from working, such offender shall, for every such offence, forfeit the sum of one dollar, to be collected as other fines and forfeitures herein specified, and he shall be discharged by the supervisor without credit for any part of the work he may done.

SEC 14. Such supervisor, within ten days after the receipt of any money, which he is not required to pay over to the township treasurer, or of any money he ordered by the township trustees, to be paid to him for the repairs of highways, shall proceed to employ laborers to repair the highways in his district, but shall not pay more to such laborers than is customary in his district for similar purposes; and such supervisor shall attend such repair, but in no case shall such supervisor neglect to repair such highways And if such labor and tax, or labor where no tax has been assessed, shall be insufficient therefor, he shall call out the hands in his district to complete such repairs.

SEC. 15. When such extra labor provided for in the next preceding section, shall not require all the hands in the district, or an equal amount of labor from each, the supervisor may assess upon the same, upon such number of the hands as he may deem sufficient, and for the excess of work performed by any one over the average amount performed by all, he shall give to such person performing such excess a certificate of the amount thereof, which shall be a good credit to the holder thereof, on account of any subsequent labor to be done by him on the highways in said district.

SEC. 16 The supervisor, or any other person by his order, may enter upon any land adjoining or near to any highway in his district, and thereupon conduct such ditches, drains and dams, and dig and remove any gravel, earth, sand or stone, or cut and remove any wood or trees that may be necessary for the proper construction, repair or preservation of such highway: and any person aggrieved may petition the township trustees for an assessment of damages occasioned thereby; and in such case, such trustees shall appoint three disinterested persons in such township to view the locality where the grievance was committed and assess such damages within twenty days after such appointment, they having first taken an oath to faithfully discharge their duties, before some officer authorized to administer oaths; and such viewers shall make a report thereof within ten days after such assessment, to such trustees, having first given notice thereof to the complainant, and such trustees shall order the damages assessed to be paid out of the township treasury, unless they should deem them unreasonable, in which case they may reduce the amount.

SEC 17. When a public highway running through, or bordering on any plantation, shall become obstructed, the owner or occupant of such plantation shall remove such obstruction as soon as it has come to his knowledge, for which the proper supervisor shall allow him a reasonable credit on his liability to work on the highways, except such obstruction is caused by the act of the owner of such plantation, in which case he shall be required to remove the same, without any such credit.

SEC. 18. All trees standing or lying on the land over which any highway shall be laid out, which it shall be necessary to remove the opening of such highway, shall belong to the owner of such land, if he shall avail himself of the same, before the supervisor is required to open such highway; but all such trees or down timber, or other material found on such premises, may be taken and used by the proper supervisor, for the construction or repair of the highway or bridge on such land.

SEC. 19 Every supervisor shall erect and keep up, at the forks on every highway, and at every crossing of roads within his district, guide posts and boards, with proper inscriptions and devices thereon, the expense thereof to be paid out of the township treasury.

SEC. 25. Any person who shall injure any drain, dam, embankment, ditch or other construction, made for the protection of any highway or bridge, or who shall willfullly destroy any guide post, or deface any inscription or device theron, or who shall unnecessarily and to the hindrance of such passengers, obstruct any highway or bridge, and who shall, when driving any vehicle, fail to keep to the right when meeting another vehicle, so as to allow it to pass without injury, for every such offence, such person shall forfeit the sum of five dollars, to be recovered before a justice of the peace of the county, in the name of such trustee, by the supervisor of the district; and in such obstruction, for every day the same is continued, such sum shall be recovered; and in all such cases, such supervisor, within three days after receiving information of any such forfeiture, shall commence such suit, and the sum recovered thereon shall be paid to the treasurer of the township for the benefit of the highways in such district.

SEC. 26. All such suits commenced by one supervisor, may be continued by his successor in office, and no costs shall be taxed against him, therein; and in case such supervisor shall fail to use due diligence in keeping the highways of his district in good repair, under the general regulations herein prescribed, or who shall fail to call out the hands of his district to work on highways thereof, the number of days herein prescribed, unless a tax has been assessed for the repair of such highways, or who shall fail to bring suit for any of the forfeiters herein provided, when required to do so by this act; or who shall fail to perform any other duty enjoined upon him by this act, for every such offence, he shall forfeit the sum of ten dollars, to be recovered before any justice in the county, in the name of the township trustees, by the treasurer of such township; and all sums so recovered shall be for the benefit of the district for which such supervisor was elected or appointed; and such treasurer shall bring such suit within three days after receiving any information of any such forfeiture

New Gold Discoveries—Great Excitement.—The Hudson Bay Company have had the good luck to find such rich diggins in their territory on Frazer and Thompson Rivers, as to cause a general stampede of every class of people tor the mines. The Puget Sound Herald of the 6th ult says:

From gentlemen who came passengers in the Sea Bird, we learn that the Hudson Bay Company at Victoria have received within the last month about one hundred and ten pounds of gold dust from the Indians. This was obtained merely from surface digging, without the aid of anything more than the rude articles—such as pans and willow baskets—possessed by the Indians.

Captain Hyde, of the United States revenue cutter Jefferson Davis, who arrived there the day previous confirmed this report The Herald thus reports of him:

He informs us that from all he has heard they are very extensive and rich, and that there is as good mining on the American side as the British. He has in his possession one piece of gold worth $20, and vial full of coarse-scale gold which came from the mines.

A few days previous to his sailing Captain Connor, of the steamer Sea Bird, arrived from Victoria, Vancouver's Island, who informed him that the Hudson Bay Company had shipped 200 pounds weight of gold dust to London. This was collected by one of their traders at Fort Hope, since January 1, 1858. Some are making now in the mines from $8 to $20 per day, and those that are there are writing to their friends to follow them.

There is a general rush for the mines from all quarters of the Sound; farmers are leaving their farms; mills have stopped; the military are deserting, and almost all that can possibly raise means onough are making tracks for the mines

This intelligence, when it reached San Francisco, created as much excitement as we were wont to see in the early days of California mining. The Herald, of the 20th ult. says:

We learn that between five and six hundred of our citizens are already booked for a passage on board the steamer Commodore, which leaves to-day. Among these are many of the most active members of our fire department, some of the companies of which will lose from five to ten men.

☞ A new process of extracting teeth was recently tried in Baltimore. A number of teeth were extracted, and the patients declare they received no pain, but experienced a numbing sensation about the tooth. This soothing is produced by passing a current of electricity through the tooth at the time of extracting the patient grasps firmly in his hand one pole from an electro-magnetic machine; the other pole is attached to the forceeps, and by this means a current of electricity is passed through the tooth, and produces a local anasthesia, and so avoids the use of chloroform or ether.

A Touch of the Romantic.—In the language of Parthenia, "two hearts with but a single thought, two souls that beat as one," will generally overcome all ordinary obstacles that "cruel parients," interpose and finally become united "for better or worse." Such has been the experience, as we must tell it in brief of Adolph Etienne Godeffory, a youth of 20 years and Harriet Emilie Kohfahl, a maided of only 18 summers Adolph who is the son of the richest man in hamburg fell in love, most violently and incurably with Harriet, who first appeared to him in the form of a premiere danseuse, light as a fairy and beautiful as a sylph His passion, which he could not conceal was reciprocated by Harriet, and the rich parient was appealed to. He, of course, contrasted his bullion with the gauze, and tinsel offered by the representative of Terpsichors, and commanded his son and heir to renounce the object of his love. The son, as in duty bound, (vide the last moral) refused to obey the cruel parent's mandate, and a clandestine marriage was consummated. As soon as the father was informed of this proceeding, he had Harriet arrested for "obtaining goods under false pretences" for some other spurious charge obtained and destroyed the evidence of his son's marriage, and sent him to this city, instructing his agent here to act as a guardian to the youth, and furnish him with $15 per week for his expenses.

Shortly after Adolph had left Hamburg for this country, Harriet was set at liberty, when she was informed of the departure of her lover, and immediately determined to follow and overtake him, if possible. Her zeal and love combined enabled her to find the exiled Adolph in this city, and their reunion might be imagined but not properly described. The pursuit of Adolph by Harriet, was communicated to the agent in this city, who was instructed to prevent if possible, a marriage of the parties in this country. The agent was faithful to his instructions, and succeeded in preventing a marriage in this city. But the lovers were not to be thwarted in their distress. They left the city on Saturday last, and finding a magistrate willing in Waltham, to "make the twain one," for a slight consideration, they were married

As soon as the agent discovered that the lovers had outwitted him, he fumed, uttered a variety of strange oaths, and applied to the chief of the Police for assistance. It was, however, too late. The united hearts could not be served—the link could not be broken. Adolph, in his pride, and Harriet who we oxght to have stated before, is a voluptuous, fair skinned, dark eyed and fascinating woman, appeared before the chief yesterday afternoon, and soon satisfied him that they had consulted their tastes and happiness in the matter, and there was no possibility of changing the course of human events, so far as they were concerned.

This closes the story. Adolph has taken a store in Hanover street, where he and his wife will probably be pleased to receive the patronage of the public until the elder Gedeffroy relents, forgives, and calls them back to Hamburg —Boston Herald.

Perpetual Motion.—A Western correspondent of Harper's Magazine gets off the following good one:

"I was traveling in Virginia by stage and spending the night at a country tavern, and was greatly entertained by the talk of the stage drivers and others sitting around the bar-room fire in the evening. One old codger worked off a good thing:

"When he was down to the fair a good many years ago there was a prize offered to the one who would come nearest to making perpetual motion. Well, all sorts of machines, of all shape and materials, were fetched there and shown and the makers told them how long they would run. As I walked about them I saw a sign over a tent—All who want to see perpetual motion, and no mistake, meet here. So I paid the admission fee and went in. Very soon a queer little man got on a box that served for a platform, and addressed the audience:—Ladies and gentlemen, I'm going to exhibit to you the most wonderfullest invention you have ever seen, it's been running full three years; and if nobody stops it, it'll run forever. And here he unrolled a strip of paper. This is a Printer's Bill! and as he held it up to the gaze of the people, they admitted, whether the bill was paid or not, they had all been sold."

☞ We know of several such cases of perpetual motion, some of which are far ahead of this Virginia one, and have been running twice as long, without the least symptom of being stopped. Some of them we have no doubt will run for ever, and probably be brought up even in the next world, as damning evidence against the pitiful souls who cheated the printer in this. If any one considers these remarks as personal we would advise them to call and pay up, and say nothing about it.

An Important Discovery.—Dr Pell a young physician of London, who has within a few years acquired a wide fame by his successful cure of cancer, has published the secret of his treatment, and his mode of cure has been successfully practiced in this country. Dr Pell is the physician to whom Crawford, the Sculptor, resorted in the last stages of his disease but not till the roots of the fungus that destroyed his life had reached the brain. The mode of treatment is described as follows:

"A piece of sticking plaster was put over the cancer, with a circular piece cut out of the center a little larger than the cancer, so that the cancer and a small circular rim of healthy skin next to it were exposed Then a plaster made of chloride of zinc, blood root, and wheat flour, was spread on a piece of muslin of the size of this circular opening, and applied to the cancer for twenty four hours. On removing it the cancer will be found burnt into, and appear of the color and hardness of an old shoe sole, and the circular rim outside of it will appear white and parboiled, as if scalded by hot steam. The wound is now dressed, and the outside rim soon suppurates, and the cancer comes out a hard lump, and the place heals up The plaster kills the cancer, so that it sloughs out like dead flesh, and never grows again. The remedy was discovered by Dr Pell, of London, and has been used by him for six or eight years, with unfailing success, and not a case has been known of the re appearance of the cancer where this remedy has been applied."

Laughable Incident—Near the corner of Washington and Franklin streets, yesterday afternoon, we noticed a man whistling for his dog. There was nothing remarkable in this, to be sure, but that which next attracted our attention might have been considered interesting, inasmuch as it caused many people to laugh The object was a young lady in the enjoyment of very voluminous hoops, who appeared to be indulging in a Terpsichorean entertainment of the St Vitus order But a decided commotion below soon told the story of her sufferings, and various were the means for relief that she adopted At length she gave a sudden jump forward, whereupon the lost dog appeared and passed down the street with his owner, evidently highly gratified at regaining his freedom.—Boston Post.

Wheat per Acre.—The London Economist says:

"The English wheat crop is remarkably good, of unusual fine quality, and the weight fully up to sixty four pound per bushel In Kent and Essex, the produce is from forty six to fifty six bushels to the acre. In midland districts the yield is forty four bushels to the acre. In the north eastern and western districts the growth may be considered the best on record. Hence it would be no exaggeration to state that England has produced this year nearly, if not quite, eight million bushels more wheat than in '56. The economist does not anticipate any great reduction of price in consequence of this great produce, but says there will probably be a proportional increase in consumption."

A Fourbon Question Revived

The Rev. Mr Williams, who claims to have a valid title to the throne of France, was in this city last week Within the past few days old cash books belonging to B. & J. R. Bleecker, and extending from the year 1799 to 1802, have been examined and a large number of interesting entries have been found therein.

Dangerous Illness of Gov. Willard.—It is with unfeigned regret we announce that Gov. Willard has for the past week been lying in an extremely critical condition from a severe attack of congestion of the lungs or pneumonia. The latest accounts are rather more favorable. The State Sentinel of Thursday says: "The symptoms of Gov. Willard were more favorable yesterday. His physicians are more hopeful of his recovery, and no longer regard him in immediate danger."

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, a majority of the Judiciary Committee have reported that Messrs Bright and Fitch, Senators from this state, are entitled to their seats. The report is a fair and correct one, and will be adopted by the Senate. There can be no doubt these gentlemen were legally elected, and are as much entitled to their seats as any other Senators on that floor.

The House has decided against Mr Lewis D. Campbell's, of Ohio, right to his seat. It is charged that he was elected by illegal negro votes, having received more votes of that complexion than his majority over Mr. Vallandigham, his competitor. A resolution that Mr. Vallandigham is entitled to the seat was adopted by four majority; and he was sworn in and took his seat.

THE MORMONS.—There is no official confirmation of the reported submission of the Mormons but the fact that Gov. Cummings has proceeded to Salt Lake City at the invitation of Brigham Young is confirmed by later arrivals. The Mormon women and children have left the city and been sent to the southward, and many of the men have proceeded in the same direction. Some reports are that their destination is an almost inaccessible mountain range in the southwestern part of the territory, where gold is said to be abundant; others assert that the Mexican province of Sonora is to be their next resting place.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES.—We have at present two boards of School Trustees in our city—one elected by the people, and another subsequently appointed by the city council. At the city election on the 4th inst. Messrs. W. Rockhill, S. Edsall, and T. Tigar, were elected school trustees, beating James Humphrey, the opposing candidate, upwards of 100 votes, and they were officially notified by the City Clerk that they were duly elected Trustees. The city council for some reason best known to themselves, took it into their heads to set aside this election and go through the farce of balloting for Trustees, and announced that Messrs. Rockhill, Tigar, and Humphrey were elected. The two former declined the appointment, and protested against the legality of the council's setting aside the popular election. Mr. Humphrey we believe has accepted the appointment, and is now the council's board; Messrs Rockhill, Edsall, and Tigar have qualified and act as the people's board. The question now is, which is the legal board? The law says they shall be elected by the people, or appointed by the corporation; and the people having elected we contend there was no necessity for the council to appoint, nor had they any right to do so. This we understand is the opinion of some of our most eminent lawyers, to whom the matter has been submitted.

The pertinacity of the council and the determination evinced to force Mr. Humphrey on the board, after he was so signally defeated before the people gives rise to some unpleasant surmises, has a very bad effect on the cause of public education, and will inevitably lead to much difficulty in collecting any city tax levied for school purposes. It is a thing that ought to have been especially avoided by the council if they are friends to free schools. How any friends of that cause could act so injudicious'y is unaccountable; and how a board, professedly democratic, nominated by democratic conventions and elected by votes of that party, could arrogate to themselves the power of setting aside a popular election and superceding the men nominated in a regular convention and duly elected, is inexplicable. If ever they again come before the people, they will find the doctrine of popular sovereignty is not to be wantonly trampled upon.

The present posture of affairs is much to be deplored, and can only result in mischief to our free schools. The only path of safety now is for the Common Council to retrace their steps, acknowledge their error and the evil course's which have guided them, and hereafter submit themselves to their sovereigns—the people. For the sake of harmony and the prosperity of our free schools, we hope they will take this wise and patriotic course.

Latest from Europe—The Africa arrived in New York on Thursday, with Liverpool dates to the 15th. There is nothing of much interest. The resolution censuring the ministry was rejected by the House of Lords by 9 majority, but is considered certain to pass the Commons; in which case Lord Derby will have to resign, and the liberals will again come into power. The markets are reported dull, and flour nominal at previous rates.

Look out for Counterfeits!—Parties have been arrested in Cincinnati and Toledo, having in their possession large amounts of Counterfeits on the Banks of Holyoke and Hadley Falls, Mass. Some of them may have found their way here, and it would be as well to look out for them. Counterfeit $10s on the McKean Co. Bank in Pennsylvania are also plenty. The bank itself is a wildcat, and its notes not current—so we consider this counterfeit as one of the meanest and vilest that was ever issued. Don't touch either the counterfeit or genuine.

Another Counterfeiter Convicted.—Dr. Patterson, another of the gang arrested in the south-eastern part of this state, has been convicted in the U. S. District Court on a charge of making bogus coin. Sentence not yet passed.

THE AMERICAN NAVY at this time consists of 50 seaworthy vessels of all classes, and 28 which are considered unseaworthy. Thirty vessels, including 12 steam frigates, are now in commission. The navy contains two line of battle ships, six sailing frigates, 13 steam frigates, 21 sloops of war, 2 steam tenders, 2 brigs, 1 schooner, and 3 store ships.

A Good Appointment.—James J Faran, Esq editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, has been appointed postmaster at that city. This is an appointment eminently "fit to be made." He possesses every qualification for the office, and is moreover a reliable and straight forward democrat, who has done good service in the cause, and enjoys the entire confidence of his party and fellow citizens generally.

Hon. HENRY B. ANTHONY, Ex-Governor of Rhode Island and editor of the Providence Journal has been elected U. S. Senator from Rhode Island, in place of Hon. Philip Allen, whose term expires on the 4th March next.

Pine Apples—Messrs TOWNLEY'S are ever on the look out for some rarity or luxury to gratify their customers. Next Monday they will open a fine lot of delicious Pine Apples.

Rain, Rain, and that continually. It does seem as if we should never have settled weather. That day was fine, the sun shone brilliantly, and the novelty of the sensation put everybody in good spirits, and led to numerous prognostications of fine weather, sunshine, seed time and harvest. But alas, for the instability of human hopes! Yesterday morning we had a tremendous storm, the heaviest we have experienced for years; the rain fell in torrents our streets were perfectly inundated, and all hopes of settled weather were summarily dispelled and washed away in the raging flood.

We still entertain hopes that we may have some dry weather this summer, and believe there is yet a good time coming,—but we are not at present prepared to fix the exact time when it shall arrive.

Lectures on Phrenology, &c—By the notice in another column it will be seen that Professor Palmer will commence a course of lectures on Phrenology, Physiology, and Physiognomy on Tuesday evening next, at Colerick's Hall. He will also give charts showing the phrenological developements of those who desire to know what their capacities are, and how best to improve them. His subject is an interesting one, and as the Lectures are free, we presume he will have good audiences.

☞ We acknowledge the receipt of a bottle of Old London Dock Gin, from Messrs. Wall, Meyer, & Co. It is warranted to be perfectly pure, and is put up especially as a safe and reliable medicine for family use. We have not yet been under the necessity of testing it, but have no doubt that it is all it purports to be,—not only a good medicine, but also far better to take than the medicines usually put up in drug stores.

Wall & Meyer keep a supply of other liquors, warranted pure, expressly for medical uses.

EDNA; or an Antique Tale. By EMMA CARRA J. Frank & Co. publishers, Boston. Price $1 00.

This is a neatly printed and very readable story of early pioneer life in New England, and is prolific in its descriptions of incidents peculiar to that most interesting period of our history. The characters are strongly drawn, and yet they are true to nature, and many of its scenes are founded upon facts.

The Central Christian Herald says of it:—"This is a pleasantly written story, and is free from those high wrought descriptions which make so many novels vitiating in their influence. Its pictures of home life in New England, a century or more ago, are no doubt truthful, and therefore instructive."

For sale at C. L. HILL'S Book Store.

☞ In our last we announced the suicide, at Delphi, of Moses D. Gridley of this city. A writer in the Delphi Times attributes the melancholy event entirely to the misguided and foolish interference of the spiritualists, who it appears infest that town in great numbers, and were allowed to operate on the unhappy man. We certainly think his friends acted very injudiciously in allowing spiritualists to have access to him, or in any way to operate upon him; nor can we account for it in another way, than that they were believers in the doctrine that "like cures like." The Delphi News says:

Some weeks ago Mr. Gridley, then residing at Fort Wayne, was, upon an inquest, as provided for under the statute, declared to be insane, and the unfortunate man was placed in charge of some of his friends to be conveyed to Indianapolis. On the way, the person having him in charge at Delphi, where he has a brother and sister residing, and where his father also at present makes his home. Here he was kept for about four weeks at the urgent solicitation of the leading spiritualists of the place in order that a trial of the efficacy of spiritual pathetizing and spiritual pow-wow-ing in restoring his reason might be made by some deluded fanatics here, who vainly and arrogantly suppose themselves, through the influence of the spirits, to be clothed with supernatural power. From the very moment of their commencing operations upon him, he grew weaker and more melancholy, and during the progress of their experiments was at times almost deprived of the faculty of speech. The measures prescribed by these fanatics were so assiduously persevered in that they succeeded in shutting out the few rays of light that occasionally cheered his mental vision, and in that dark hour he committed the act which ushered him "unannounced and unannealed" into the presence of his Creator, leaving a large circle of friends, and an affectionate wife sunk in inconsolable grief.

There appears to be a tendency to insanity in this family; but it is of that mild character which readily yields to proper treatment, and we cannot for a moment doubt, but that if Mr. Gridley had been immediately conveyed to the Hospital, and the spiritualists here not been allowed to tamper with him, he would soon have been restored sound in mind and body to his unhappy wife and family who now mourn his untimely end.

Gov. Wright's Confirmation—We notice that several papers in the State, assuming that Gov. Wright's appointment will not be confirmed or sent into the Senate for confirmation, are discussing the matter with a good deal of acrimony. Would it not be wiser policy to wait, to have the matter definitely settled, as it will be in a few weeks, and then be governed by the case? Because Gov. Wright's appointment has not yet been acted upon, it is not a satisfactory reason that it will not be. Other appointments made previous to his have not been sent to the Senate for confirmation, and we here of no expression of sensitiveness in the matter. If Gov Wrights appointment be confirmed, all occasion for reflections upon the appointing power is removed. If the President should not submit the appointment for confirmation, his reasons for so doing will probably be developed, and upon these reasons we must Judge the propriety of his action. If the nomination is sent into the Senate and it is not confirmed by that body, the considerations which influenced their determination will undoubtedly be made public. Upon the facts presented we must judge the case, in that event.

The Senate during the remainder of the prescribed session will probable devote their time almost exclusively to Legislation. In case Congress adjourns upon the 7th proximo, an executive session of the Senate will, doubtless be held to act specially upon all appointments which have not been submitted to it. So it may yet be several weeks before the unsubmitted and unconfirmed appointments are acted upon.—Ind., State Sentinel.

NEW YORK, May 28.

A dispatch to the Herald says a preliminary meeting of politicians from all parts of the country, was held yesterday, in Washington, with a view to a settlement of a programme for a general union of the opponents of the Administration. An address will soon be issued.

The Courier correspondent says that Government expects important intelligence from England by the next steamer. It is understood that Lord Napier gives his opinion that his government will contend for the right of visitation; as distinct from the right of search. Should despatches from Mr Dallas confirm that expectation the relations of the two countries will suddenly approach a casus belli. The Administration promises to meet this contingency with vigor.—The intimations thrown out are that orders will be given to bring in, for adjudication all British armed vessels committing acts of outrage on our commerce.

Mr Douglass is authorized by the committee on Territories to prepare bills establishing territorial governments in Dacotah and Arizona, to be submitted at a further meeting.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, May 22.

HOUSE—The consideration of the Minnesota election case, pending at adjournment, yesterday, was resumed.

Mr. Harris, of Illinois, by the request of the Committee on Elections, submitted the certificate of George L. Becker, which Mr. Stanton had discovered in the Clerk's office, while looking over papers there; also, a letter from Governor Medary and Joseph R Brown, one of the canvassers, saying that Messrs Phelps and Cavanaugh received the highest number of votes, referring to Mr. Greeley's Almanac for figures.

Mr Harris said that the Committee understood that. They were instructed to inquire simply into the prima facie rights of Messrs. Phelps and Cavanaugh, leaving their seats open to contest.

Mr Washburn, of Maine, offered a resolution declaring that Messrs. Phelps and Cavanaugh were not entitled to be admitted and sworn. Negatived by 51 majority.

The question was then taken on the resolution of the majority of the Committee on Elections that Messrs. Phelps and Cavanaugh be sworn in provided that this shall not be considered as precluding any contest of their right to seats, which may be hereafter instituted by persons having a right to do so. Adopted—yeas 135, nays 63.

Messrs. Phelps and Cavanaugh were then sworn in.

Mr. Campbell called up the Ohio contested election case.

The Committee on Elections were unable to agree on any proposition—Messrs. Boyer, Stevensons, Phillips, and Lamar, uniting in the opinion that Vallindigham, is entitled to a seat—Messrs Washburn of Maine, Clark of Connecticut, Gilmer and Wilson, agree that Campbell should retain his seat, had Mr. Harris, of Illinois, proposing that the seat be declared vacant.

WASHINGTON, May 24.

HOUSE—The House proceeded to the consideration of business relating to the district of Columbia, in accordance with a special order.

The bill to regulate municipal elections in Washington gave rise to an animated debate, during which Mr. Davis of Maryland, said the President, Mayor, and other municipal officers were vicious, corrupt and unfit for the places they hold, and the floating temporary Government vote elected them.

He vindicated the Americans, and denounced the calling out of the marines last June, to the election, and consequent bloodshed.

Mr. Burnet replied that was notorious that the reign of Terror prevailed here at that time, owing to the arrival of rowdies from Baltimore, armed with deadly weapons.

Mr Marshall of Ky, replied to so much of Mr. Burnet's remarks as referred to the Louisville riots, saying that they originated with foreigners, whose cold blooded purpose was destruction of human life. He denied utterly that there is now, or ever has been anything like a political proscription in Americanism, properly understood.

Mr. Burnet proceeded to show that Mr. Marshall did not give a correct history of the Louisville riots, and charged murder and incendiarism on the American party.

The Elective and other district bills were considered and laid aside for further action.

SENATE—Mr. Douglas of Ill, introduced a bill facilitating communication between the Atlantic and Pacific States by telegraph.

Mr. Douglas also introduced the following important bill, having reference to British and Mexican aggressions. It reads as follows:

"A bill to restrain and redress outrages upon the flag and citizens of the United States—Be it enacted, &c, that in case of fragrant violations of the laws of nations by outrages upon the flag soil or citizens of the United States, or upon their property, under circumstances requiring prompt redress; and when, in the opinion of the President, delay would be incompatible with the honor and dignity of the Republic, the President is hereby authorized to employ such force as he may deem necessary, to prevent the perpetration of such outrages, and to obtain just redress and satisfaction for the same when perpetrated, and it shall be his duty to lay the fact of each case, together with the reasons for his actions in the premises, before Congress, at the earliest practicable moment, for further action thereon as Congress may direct."

The majority of the Committee on the Judiciary reported that Senators Bright and Fitch, of Indiana were entitled to their seats.

Mr. Pugh of Ohio, moved that the report be printed.

Mr Trumbull of Ill., one of the minority of the committee, wished to know what documents were to be printed.

Some Parliamentary skirmishing ensued, ending by Mr. Pugh, requesting to be excused from serving on the Judiciary Committee.

Mr Hunter of Virginia, called up the bill authorizing a loan of fifteen million dollars by the Secretary of the Treasury. He advocated its passage in the expectation that in some months trade would gain its activity, and the revenue will be revived. Even at the present, rates show a surplus, providing economy be used in the administration of the Government.

Mr Wilson replied, showing that Mr. Hunter's estimates for the coming revenue, were exaggerated, and that the actual probabilities are that it will not exceed fifty or fifty-five millions, when the expenditures being seventy-five millions will leave a deficiency, for actual outlay, of 25 millions exclusive of over twenty millions, of treasury notes; in other words money must be provided to meet the demand of one hundred millions of dollars. He (Wilson) prophesied that another loan was inevitable before January next. He moved to strike out the fifth section, appointing two additional clerks, which was carried—yeas 26, nays 20.

Mr. Wilson also moved to reduce the estimate form printing the notes from $20,000 to $5,000, also carried—yeas 27, nays 21.

Mr. Rigler moved to amend by making a coupon loan, which was agreed to.

Mr. Cameron said that the coupon bonds would be more readily taken and at a lower rate. He therefore, would reduce a rate of interest from six to five per cent. Carried yeas 38, nays 14.

Mr Simmons introduced a lengthy amendment with reference to the valuation of imports for duties, which was ordered to be printed.

Mr. Hunter seemed disposed to raise the question of order, but without taking any action, the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, May 25.

HOUSE—A resolution offered by Mr Marshall of Kentucky for the postponement of the Ohio contested election case was rejected by 26 maj.

A resolution of Mr Gilmore of North Carolina, member of the committee on elections, declaring that Mr. Campbell is entitled to a seat was rejected by 25 majority.

A resolution of Mr Lamar, also of the Committe, that Mr Vallandigham is entitled to the seat, was adopted by 4 maj.

A resolution by Mr Harris, declaring the seat vacant as just amended by Mr Lamar's proposition, was agreed to by 7 maj.

Mr. Vallandigham was then sworn in.

The House, on motion of J Glancey Jones of Pennsylvania, acted on the Senate amendments to the executive, judicial and legislative appropriation bills.

Another Pea-Nut War.—The Railroad war in Erie Co. Pa, has commenced again. A large number of citizens of Harbor Creek, having turned out one day last week and forcibly removed the rails of the Buffalo and Erie R. R, from all the highways in that vicinity. The Railroad Co. had commenced relaying the track, and further disturbance was anticipated.

WASHINGTON, May 22

The bill reported by Mr. Hunter, in the Senate gives authority to the President, any time within twelve months from the passage of the act, to borrow $15,000,000, with the proviso that no contract shall be made to prevent the United States from reimbursing the sum borrowed at any time after the expiration of 15 years from the 1st of January next. The stock to be issued bearing interest not exceeding six per centum—none to be issued in a less sum than $100 which may be transferred on the books of the Treasury under such regulations as may be established by the Secretary of the Treasury. Whenever required, the Secretary may cause coupons of semi-annual interest to be attached to certificates, assigned or transferred. The Secretary is to give public notice for bids of not less than thirty days, and accept the most favorable from responsible bidders. No stock to be disposed of at less than par value, as the faith of the United States is pledged for the payment of interest or redemption of principal. The bill authorizes the employment of two additional clerks, and appropriates $20 000 to meet the expenses incurred in the execution of the law.

WASHINGTON, May 26.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs had under consideration, yesterday, various propositions for giving the President more power to suppress outrages upon American commerce. They are unanimous and decided in their views, and will report in favor of giving the President full power in the premises. The Committee also considered Mr Slidell's proposition to abrogate that clause of the Ashburton treaty which requires the United States to maintain a naval force on the coast of Africa—The proposition was rejected, Mason, Slidell and Polk voted yea—and Foote, Crittenden, Douglas and Seward, nay.

ST. LOUIS, May 25

From Santa Fe.—The papers of May 5 are received.

On the 17th of April a party of Mexicans from Messila Valley attacked a party of Apache Indians near Fort Thom, and butchered indiscriminately, men, women and children. Lieut. Howard, of Fort Thom captured the Mexicans and held them prisoners at the Fort.

The Republican learns that Montgomery's band of robbers in Kansas have in contemplation the robbery of the Indian Agent, Tamary who is about distributing annuities to the amount of four thousand dollars among the Sac and Fox Indians.

The robbers are now concentrating on the Osage river, about 6 miles from the Sac and Fox agency.

Mr Timary has asked a military escort from Gen Harney to conduct him from Kansas City to the agency and to protect all parties during the distribution of the money.

The officers of the steamer "Polar Star" report that a strong force had surprised Montgomery's band, near Fort Scott, and killed 11 of them—This, however, needs confirmation.

ST LOUIS, May 26

Indian Troubles.—A dispatch from Nebraska City, (23d) says that intelligence has been received from Gate county that a conflict had just occurred between the settlers and the Kioway Indians, in which one Chief was killed and a number of stolen horses were captured. There was much complaint of Indian depredations in that region.

ST LOUIS, May 27.

The last detachment of troops for Utah under command of Maj Paul, numbering 210 men, left Jefferson barracks last night for Fort Leavenworth.

A letter to the Democrat, dated Leavenworth, May 23, says there is no intermission in the preparatory labors of the troops, consequent upon the recent intelligence from Salt Lake, and judging from the movements at the Fort, no countermand is anticipated. The head quarters will not be moved before 15 or 20 days. It is understood, however, that Gen Harney may proceed in advance of his staff, passing the several columns on the route. Col Crossman, Qur. Master General, is ordered to proceed with the fourth column under Col Morrison; and Maj Babbitt, Adt. General, is to be stationed at Ft. Laramie, whither he goes immediately.

ST. LOUIS, May 25

Defeat of Montgomery's Free State Banditti!—10 Men Killed!!—The Westport correspondent of the St Louis Republican states that Capt Hamilton and some 20 others, who had been driven from Linn co, by Montgomery's men, after placing their families in safety in Missouri, determined to return to the Territory to look after and protect their property. On approaching Chouteau's trading post, on the morning of the 19th, a party stationed at that place, mistaking them for Montgomery's men, came out and met them, when they were all taken prisoners. From one of them Hamilton learned that a number of the robbers were stationed at Snyders, a fortified post, a short distance from Chouteau's post. Under promise that they would return home, the prisoners were disarmed and released. Hamilton's party then proceeded to Snyder's house, which was situated in a ravine flanked by rocky walls. Dividing into two parties they approached it in opposite directions, and hearing guns fired on the side of the hill, they charged, on the spot, where they found the men they had just released, who had taken a short cut for Snyder's after arming themselves at a neighboring house. A fight ensued; resulting in the death of 10 of the robbers, among them Capt Reid, one of Montgomery's board of Commissioners before whom all prisoners are tried.—In a few minutes, the main force in Snyder's house rushed to the woods and escaped.

This correspondent distinctly states that not a Missourian took part in the affair. All of Hamilton's party were men who had been driven from the Territory a few days before.

The Southern Flood.—The New Orleans Crescent, of last Saturday, says that all efforts to stop Labranche crevasse in the Parish of St. Charles have been abandoned. An immense section section of country has been inundated and the inundation will continue to spread until the subsidence of the waters. The damage done and to be done by that and the Bell crevasse must be estimated by millions.

From the Vicksburgh Southron, of the same date, we learn that the levee of A. M. Gwin, of Issaquena County, had given was for a space of about four hundred yards in extent. The damage will be most serious to him, as well as disastrous to a number of our friends below him.

Benson Blake, of Warren County, has had 4 or 5 hundred acres submerged by the breaking of one of his levees. His levees cost him not less than $30,000.

The Western and Southern Floods.—The latest mails still bring us accounts of the ravages of the floods, West and South. The great flood in the Wabash, the greatest known in thirty years, mention of which has already been made, was abating on Friday at Vincennes. The levees at Belgrade and other points had been broken, and the waters of that river were working almost as much damage as the mighty Mississippi in its overflow.

A New Cut-off.—The Mississippi River during the last high water broke the levee at American Bend, destroying the plantation of a Mr. Johnson on the Arkansas side. The gap is about three hundred yards wide and twenty-five or thirty feet deep, and is widening and deepening every day. The body of the river will be changed, and the cut-off will be a saving of at least twelve miles.

The last crevasse near Mr A. Bougere's plantation is irremediable; it is suffered to do its worst. A crevasse on Alexander Henderson's plantation, below Vidalia, was such a break as to defy all attemps at repair. It rushes through with a torrent, the roar of which can be heard at a considerable distance, and the force of the volume of water is sufficient to uproot trees in the fields over which it precipitates itself.

Tough Yarns About the Illinois Storm.—The Peoria Transcript is determined make the most of the "big item," lately occurring in Illinois. Among the incidents detailed in a late number, we find the following:

The tornado, in its progress performed some curious freaks. At El Paso, on the Eastern extension railroad, it blew some houses to splinters, and yet broke not one pan of glass in the windows it carried some distance. At Kappa two ladies were blown away, and have not since been heard from. They probably wore hoops. At Chenoa it demolished a house completely, and yet left a book case that, was in it without a scratch or a broken pane of glass. It carried a large mirror sixty feet and laid it down unbroken. The next morning after the storm a man was seen to crawl from under a barn, who, after being questioned, stated that as he was coming across the prairie the wind picked him up and carried him half a mile, setting him down in a pond for feet deep; he waded out and got on a little rise of ground, when the wind took him again, and hurried him with violence against the side of the barn, under which he crawled and spent the night.

The most wonderful feat of all, however, occurred at Chenoa. A farm-house was blown, at two jumps, up no less than three hundred feet from where it stood, and sat down so easily that the plastering was not cracked or the dishes knocked off the table, which was set for supper! A similar occurrence took place at Gilmon, where a kitchen was blown from the side of a house into a slough, without a plate broken, and when our informant left, the inmates were journeying back and forth on a raft, to get the cooking utensils for breakfast.

The British Cruisers in the Gulf.

However much allowance we may be disposed to make for exaggeration in the statements of the captains of the various American vessels which are said to have been boarded and searched, and several of them fired into, by British armed vessels in the Gulf of Mexico and the adjacent waters, within the last three weeks, it is scarcely possible that their statements are wholly unfounded, and that none of the outrages complained of ever took place.

The following is a list of the vessels whose captains declare that they have been stopped at sea (most of them fired into) and searched by the officers and crews of cruisers belonging to the navy of Great Britain:

Brig Robert Wing,	Ship Tropic Bird,
Schooner Wingold,	Bark Clara Windsor,
Schooner Cortez,	Bark Glenburn,
Schooner N. B. Borden,	Bark W. H. Chandler,
Schooner Mobile.

Twelve other vessels also boarded and searched in the harbor of Saguala Grande.

It is difficult to believe that the British officers commanding the cruisers would dare to arrest and search vessels carrying the American flag, even for the purpose of testing their right to carry it, unless they were expressly ordered to do so by the Admiralty; and it is equally difficult to imagine how the British Government, knowing, as they must, the invincible determination of the American people to resist at all hazards the claim of any foreign power to arrest, board and examine American vessels for any purpose whatever, could issue any such orders, the execution of which must inevitably result in a serious controversy between the two countries. As we have already stated, the fact that the American flag is used by vessels engaged in the slave trade, as a protection from the consequences of detection in that iniquitous traffic is no justification for the detention and insult of American vessels engaged in lawful trade. The American people have already fought for and bled in defense of the right of their vessels to the perfect freedom of the seas, and sooner than forfeit that right, they would take arms again as one man. The doctrine which we maintain is distinctly laid down in Secretary Cass' letter to Lork Napier, of the 10th of April, 1858, from which we extract the following:

"To permit a foreign officer to board the vessel of another power, to assume command in her, to call for and examine her papers, to pass judgment upon her character, to decide the broad inquiry whether she is navigated according to law, and to send her in at pleasure for trial, can not be submitted to by any independent nation without infamy and dishonor. The United States deny the right of the cruisers of any other power whatever, for any purpose whatever, to enter their vessels by force in time of peace."

This doctrine, we are convinced, our Government will calmly, but firmly enforce. Steps have been already taken in this direction. Orders have been issued to the American squadron in the Gulf of Mexico and the Central American waters, to put a stop to the boarding and searching of American merchant vessels by foreign ships of war; and the President has demanded explanations from the governments of England and Spain, with regard to the outrages said to have been committed on vessels entitled to carry the United States flag, in the vicinity of Cuba. We are persuaded that the Administration will act with perfect prudence and a due regard to the national honor, and that if, on inquiry, the charges brought against the British officers by the American shipmasters whose vessels have been subjected to detention and search, prove well founded, redress will be demanded, and adequate security against a repetition of the offense.

We are in favor of the most tenacious maintainance of the freedom of our ships on the seas; but we are not prepared, on mere ex parte statements, to recommend, as some of our cotemporaries do, an immediate resort to warlike measures. We hope and trust that an inquiry may be made into the facts, with all the gravity the subject demands, but with perfect courtesy and good temper: that the wrong may be established beyond a doubt, and fitting redress demanded and refused, before a resort to force is even spoken of. We are great and powerful enough to assert our rights and uphold our dignity, without the use to swaggering and bluster. We have no right to take it for granted that the British Government intended deliberately to insult our flag and provoke a quarrel with us. Let us rather suppose that mistaken orders have been issued, or that the officers of the British cruisers have mistaken the meaning of their orders, and hence the trouble. It will be time enough to get into a passion and want to fight, when we find that we have been willfully insulted, and that our first demand has been refused. Coolness, dignity and forbearance can not injure our cause, they can but add to its strength and justice.

Another Vessel Boarded.—Capt Gray, of the schooner Mary Blank, arrived at Boston, reports, that while at Sagua, his vessel was boarded by British officers, who departed quietly after making a few enquiries.

The Case of the Indiana Senators—We are glad to see that the Judicial Committee in the United States Senate have reported favorable to the admission of Messrs. Bright and Fitch, of Indiana, to their seats, which have been contested by certain parties in that State. This report is in accordance with substantial equity, and justice, and we hope to see it adopted. They received eighty-five votes in the Indiana Legislature for United States Senators, at a joint convention of the two Houses. Some sixty-five members absented themselves willfully from the convention, with the design of breaking up the election, which they knew they would have no power to, prevent if they were present. It is time that these efforts of factions minorities in State Legislature to defeat by revolutionary, means, the choice of Senators, received a rebuke or otherwise the Senate may be left some day without a quorum. If every absentee from the Indiana joint convention had been present and voted against Messrs Bright and Fitch, they still would have been elected. Why then should they not receive their seats?—Cin. Enq.

The Tariff—Direct Taxation.—Mr. Boyce of South Carolina, has made a report in the House of Representatives from the select committee on the tariff, &c. It takes ground that a protective policy should be entirely abandoned, and a resort be made as early as possible to direct taxation, as a measure of economy. Articles of prime necessity should be taxed at the lowest rate of duty, and the burden be thrown as much as possible upon luxuries. The navigation laws should be so modified as not to require any portion of the officers and crews of American ships to be American seamen. There should be free purchase and sale of foreign built ships on an entire equality with American built ships, and the American coast trade should be open on terms of perfect equality to foreign ships.

The committee say they do not entertain the hope that they can inaugurate the new policy now; such radical changes must be the work of time. They do not, therefore, look so much to immediate practical results as to the effect on public opinion, to ultimately insure the triumph of the principles which they advocate. Mr. Garnett does not concur in all the conclusions of the committee.

Grand Lodge of Indiana.—The election of officers for the ensuing year took place yesterday, and resulted as follows:

Arrival of the City of Washington.

NEW YORK, May 23.

The steamship City of Washington arrived this evening, with Liverpool dates to Wednesday, the 12th inst. The steamship Africa arrived out on the 9th inst.

Great Britain.—Resolutions have been proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Cardwell, and in the House of Lords by Lord Shattesbury, censuring the government for the publication of their despatches to the Governor General of India in regard to his first proclamation to the people of Oude. Lord Ellenborough, assumed all the responsibility for the act, and resigned his post in the Ministry, which was accepted. The resolutions were to be considered on Thursday, the 13th inst, the day after the sailing of the steamer. The House of Commons had disagreed to amendments of the House of Lords to the Jewish Bill, and admitted Baron Rothschild as a member of their committee to confer with the committee of the House of Lords. Sir Henry Bulwer had been appointed Minister to Constantinople. The Hon Edward Erskine has been appointed Secretary of Legation at Washington. The London Times says that the resolutions censuring the government will be supported by Lord John Russell and the Peelite party, as well as by the friends of Lord Palmerston. Speculations were rife as to whether the Ministers would resign or dissolve Parliament in the event of the resolutions passing. No doubt seems to be entertained that the proposed vote of censure will be adopted by the House of Commons on Thursday, although it seems almost incredible that a dissolution will either be contemplated or allowed. All of the Atlantic Telegraph cable is on board of the United States steam frigate Niagara and the British frigate Agamemnon. They will depart on an experimental trip to test the machinery, on the 25 h of May. The expedition was only waiting for the adjustment of the paying-out apparatus. The mail steamer Canada, from Africa, had been sunk by a collision with the bark Ida Elizabeth. The captain, two passengers and four seaman were drowned. The remainder, fifty in numb r, were rescued by the crew of the bark. A serious accident had occurred on the Tocat Valley Railroad, by which three lives were lost and four persons seriously injured. The disagreement of the House of Commons with the House of Lords on the Jewish Bill was carried by a vote of 263 against 150. In the House of Commons, Mr Berkeley had given notice of a bill to establish a system of voting by ballot. In response to an inquiry, Mr. Fitzgergald stated that the government had demanded compensation from Naples for the imprisonment of English engineers, but refuse to state the amount.

India.—The Fourth Bengal Light Cavalry, one hundred and sixty strong, had been tried by a court martial, and sixty were sentenced to be hung. The remainder were condemned to transportation for life. Colonel Seatons had beaten the enemy, capturing three guns. Robilcund was in possession of the rebels, who were said to be one thousand strong. The London Stock Exchange was depressed, under the impression that there would be another ministerial crisis, as well as by the continual withdrawal of gold from the continent. There was no alteration in the value of money.

Calcutta.—Dates to April 9 have been received, but are without much importance. A hot weather campain in Rhoilcund was deemed inevitable.

France—The second election of the fifth circumscription of Paris had resulted in the success of the opposition candidate. The Paris Conference had been further posponed for a few days.

LIVERPOOL, May 11.

Markets—Breadstuffs are quoted generally as dull, but steady. Richardson, Spence & Co. quote Flour as dull and nominally unchanged.

Wheat dull at 6s for Red, and 7s a 7s 6d for White. Corn is firm at 36s for White; and 34s 9d a 35s for Yellow. Wakefield & Nash's Circular quotes White Corn at 5d a 1s advance.

Provisions generally steady. Beef heavy. Pork firm. Bacon firm. Land quiet and choice lots sold at 37s.

The rush of breadstuffs towards tide water, compared with last year, is very strong. The receipts of flour and wheat at Buffalo, Oswego, and Ogdensburg, New York, this year are 714,175 barrels in excess of the same time last year. This is an excess of flour exceeding the entire exports of that article from New York this year nearly 300,000 barrels. At Chicago, whence such large supplies have been drawn this season, compared with last, the stock of wheat on the 8th inst. was nearly double that it was 9th of May 1857.

B. RANDALL,
PROPRIETOR OF
I. M. SINGER'S

of the State of Pennsylvania (except the counties of Erie, Alleghaney and Philadelphia) State of Wisconsin, and the northern part of Indiana.

THE world wide reputation of these machines renders puffing unnecessary. All who have used Singer's Machines testify to their superior merits over all others. Over 12 000 have been sold and are now in active operation, and not one has proved a failure! By simply changing the needle and thread the same machine will execute perfectly every variety of work, coarse or fine, on cloth or leather. From $200 to $500 a year can be cleared by an individual using this machine more than can be cleared by hand.

Singer has also brought out a new highly ornamented, which for beauty and expedition far surpasses all other Family Machines. These machines use two threads, forming a lock stitch in the centre of the goods sewed, and making a perfect back stitch on both sides of the cloth, which makes a seam much stronger and harder to rip than hand sewing, and does not use more than two thirds as much thread as the chain stitch machine.

These machines are for sale by the undersigned, at his office on North Fifth Street, opposite Good's Hotel, Reading, Pennsylvania:

Also by T. E. EVANSON, Traveling Agent in Indiana. Silk, Needles, Oil, and Thread for sale by T. E. EVANSON,

A FEW WORDS on the Rational Treatment, without medicine, of Spermatorrhœa or Local Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, Genital and Nervous Debility, Impotency, and Impotency, and Impediments to marriages generally, by

B. DE LANEY, M D.

The important fact that the many alarming complaints originating in the imprudence and solitude of youth, may be easily removed without Medicine, is in this small tract clearly demonstrated; and the entirely new and high successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure himself perfectly and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advertised nostrums of the day.

Washington Territory.—A letter from Vancouver, Washington Territory, confirms first reports of most extensive gold discoveries on Frazer's River, in the vicinnity of Colaille. The correspondent of the San Francisco Herald wrote thus on the 6th ult :

Already a large extent of mining country, which will pay well, has been discovered; and he is satisfied that the whole extent of country north, through the British Possessions, will furnish gold in abundance. Of the truth of this I have no doubt, as I am assured by Mr. Manson who is now here, and who has had charge of one of the Hudson Bay Company's post in the interior of what is called New Caledonia Mr M. has just returned from that section of the country, and came down Frazer's River He says the miners on the tributaries of Frazer's River are making from $10 to $100 per day—there being a large extent of mining country—and that hundreds were flocking there One man named Adams told Mr. M. that there was one single tongue or point of land projecting into the waters, supposed to be a mountain-slide, which would give employment to one thousand men for years, and its supposed that it will pay from $20 to $200 a day to the hand. The rush of parties to these mines has been so great that he says there is not a canoe to be had from the tribes of Indians who are near the entrance of Frazer's River.

Infadls Applying for a Divorce.—In New York, on Monday, very amusing petition for a divorce was presented to the Supereme Court, which may be taken as highly illustrative of our age of progress. Edward Ayres, an infant, aged 14, applied by petition to have a guardian appointed to prosecute a suit for a divorce from his—the petitioner's not the guardian's—wife. The Judge having read the papers, inquired how old the interesting lady defendant might be and was informed she was about sixteen The Judge then granted the prayer of the petition.

Growing Potatoes Under Straw.—Having seen, in the agricultural journals, more than a year ago, reports of extraordinary success in raising potatoes by covering them with straw, I was induced to try a small experiment which I will relate for the benefit of some of your readers.

A plot in my garden, about fifty feet square, of well-manured, clayed loam, was nicely spaded up and made fine and smooth. It was then marked out in shallow drills, two feet and a half apart, and potatoes (of the pinkeye variety) planted whole, two feet apart in the drils, and barely covered with earth. The whole patch was then covered with dry wheat straw—which had been very much broken by its passage through a threshing machine—and the same spread lightly and evenly with a pitchfork, to the depth of about two feet. Several showers occurred soon after the potatoes were planted, which settled the straw very considerably and in due time the vines came up through the straw, and soon covered the entire surface with the rankest vegetation.

Nothing now was done to the patch till the vines were killed by frost in autumn. Not a weed appears among them. At the usual time of digging potatoes, the dead vines were all pulled and removed; then, with a potatoe fork, the layer of straw—which was pretty well rotted, and not more than four our five inches in thickness—was carefully removed. To my great surprise, there lay the potatoes on the surface, literally covering the ground, and almost as clean as if they had been washed. They were picked up and measured, but the quantity I do not remember. This, much however, I will recollect that I never raised so good a crop by any other mode of culture They were of very uniform size, and of good quality.

[illegible] S MOSHER.

Latonia Springs, Ky., March 1858

Undoubtedly the above method of growing potatoes is worthy of further trial, especially by those who life in warm latitute. Protected by the straw from the scorching rays of the sun, the ground would naturally remain moist and cool—thus providing for the potato-roots those conditions of soil best adopted to their growth.—Ohio Valley Farmer.

The American Horse Trainer's System Explained.—On the 21st, at Astley's Amphitheater, in London, Mr William Cooke, the equestrian, undertook to exemplify Professor Rarey's system of breaking, subduing, and training unmanagable and vicious horses. There was, consequently, a crowded house, the boxes particularly being well filled. We take the following accounts of what took place from the Morning Advertiser: "Mr Wm Cooke informed the audience that, having advertised his intention of exhibiting Professor Rarey's principle of subduing horses, by experimenting on any horse that might be sent him, a horse had been sent to him that morning for the purpose. A full grown horse—a hunter—was then led in, and the following simple mode of operation was adopted: A strap is attached to the fetlock of the right foreleg, and drawn over the animal's right shoulder, whether it is held by Mr Cooke. The left leg is then bent inwards, so as to bring the hoof in contact with the thigh, and made fast in that position by a strap and buckle. Mr Cooke then, taking the reins in his left hand, and bringing the strap attached to the horse's foreleg into a state of tension, urges the animal to walk on his three legs Holding the reins tight, and so as to incline the head to the left, the horse is forced to make a journey twice round the circus. At this time he exhibits symptoms of great exhaustion, goes on his knees, and ultimately lies down in the most submissive manner. He is then relieved from the inconvenient and unaccustomed restrictions imposed upon him by the straps, and Mr Cooke lies upon him in a recumbent position, and caresses him, and his pattings are received by the horse with such indications of gratification as to leave no doubt that the most friendly relations are established between the parties.

Cooling Rooms.—The warm weather will shortly be here, and every one will be seeking the refreshing influence of a cool and shady place, whereunto they can retreat from the blazing sun; so we will give our readers a few hints concerning the cooling of their houses. The first necessity is a thorough draught. This can always be obtained by opening every door and window in the basement, the top of every window above, and by throwing every door wide open; but, above all, be sure that the trap door in the roof is open, and there is plenty of air room from it down stairs, so that whichever be the direction of the wind there will be at least one ascending current of air in the house. Another requisite is shade. Our common slat shutters answer well for the windows; but the most cheap and convenient shelter for the roof is to cover it thickly with straw, dried reeds, or rushes. These will resist the influence of the noon day sun, and keep the garret as cool as the basement One of the most simple methods, and at the same time cheapest means of artificially lowering the temperature of the room is to wet a cloth of any size, the larger the better, and suspend it in the place you want cool; let the room be well ventilated and the temperature will sink from ten to twenty degrees in less than half an hour. The above hints will be useful to many, and as a last suggestion we will inform the reader that in summer it is well to keep a solution of chloride of lime in the house, and occasionally sprinkle it in the more frequented parts, as the passages and stairs.—Scientific American.

Preserving Flowers.—Our fair readers, all of whom we know, love flowers—the season of which is now at hand—will be interested in the following manner of preserving them from wilting, which a cotemporary assures us is highly successful. The plan is this: Procure a flat dish of porcelain, into which pour water; place upon it a vase of flowers, and over the vase a bell glass with its rim in the water. The air that surrounds the flowers being confined beneath the bell glass, is constantly moist with water, that rises into it in the form of vapor As fast as the water becomes condensed it runs down the side of the bell glass into the dish; and if means be taken enclose the water on the out side of the bell glass, so as to prevent it evaporating into the air of the sitting room, the atmosphere around the flowers is continually damp. The plan is designated the "Hopean Apparatus." The experiment may be tried on a small scale by inverting a tumbler over a rosebud in a saucer of water.

☞ Those who cultivate Strawberries, and every man that has a garden should have a strawberry bed, should remember that if they desire vines to bear fruit, they must prevent them from running. It is a fact that the vines will not bear fruit while runners are permitted to go unchecked. Pinch off the runners as fast as they appear and you will have fruit all summer It would also be well to bear in mind, that strawberries are remarkably fond of water—water freely in a dry time, and they will do much better.

Full directions accompanying each box; and all that is requisite is strictly to observe them, and a cure is certain to follow.

The proprietor refers to the following testimonials from gentlemen of character and standing, who have voluntarily given their certificates in its favor in regard to its efficacy in their own cases. Read them

The following is from one of the most reliable citizens of Chicago, the late Treasurer of Cook County Illinois:

Chicago. July 25, 1855.

Dr. Cavanaugh:—Dear Sir,—I wish hereby to make known to the affl cted that I have been troubled with the Piles for twenty years and upwards, and at times most severely. And during a recent and exceedingly painful attack a friend procured a box of your Salve, and asked me to give it a trial. I did so; not however with the expectation of benefiting my disease, for truly, I had tried so many applications I had lost confidence in all. But in making use of your Salve, I soon found that is was doing me good; and really it is incredible to myself, that with only about two weeks' use of your Salve, I am so far as I can judge a well man.

I most cheerfully make this statement, believing it due both to yourself and such as may be afflicted with this most painful and trying disease. I do not hesitate to say that I consider your preparation an invaluable remedy for the Piles.

Most sincerely yours, N. N. HEALD.

The Hon Richard Yates, late member of Congress from the Springfield, Ill., district, says:

Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 15, 1855.

Dr. Thos. H. Cavanaugh.—Dear Sir,—The preparation, Cavanaugh's Pile Salve, which you furnished. I found of great service, producing an easy and speedy cure. I do not hesitate to recommend it as an invaluable remedy for the Piles.

Respectfully, RICHARD YATES.

D. J. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Constipation Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any Bilious Complaints arising from a weakened condition of the Stomach or Bowels producing Cramps Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c. &c.

All of these ills yield like magic toits vilifying influence upon the system, and for a person in advanced years, or recovering from sickness of any kind, nothing can be more conducive to their convalescence than the use of these Bitters as per directions on the bottles.

Scarcely four years have elapsed since the first introduction of "Dr. J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters" to the public, and such has been the success of this article after its tested efficacy by a discriminating public, that during the last year nearly half a million bottles were sold, with a continuous demand in excess of the supply; with all the facilities the proprietors have been able to command in its preparation.

Are you dyspeptic? Then take these Stomach Bitters.

Are you bilious? Try one bottle of these Bitters, and be relieved at once.

Are you annoyed by indigestion or constipation? Remove the cause by the free use of these Bitters.

Have you fever and ague? How many thousands in the West and South have been cured of this constitution-destroying disease by the free use of these Bitters?

All should try this great Antidote. We venture to affirm that, when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are used, a case of Fever and Ague cannot occur; therefore, no family consulting their own interest can afford to do without it.

A WORD TO THE LADIES

Is recommended to your use Dr J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters, it is but just to state that as a stimulant to the system, in imparting strength and vigor, preparatory to periodical stages, which are of time attended with much pain and trouble, we know of no preparation more happily adapted to all afflictions consequent on that course, and for cramps in stomach, cholera morbus, and all ailments arising from over indulgence in fruits, vegetables, ice creams, &c., it is certain and silvest instantaneous remedy, and no family should be without it.

One wineglassful taken three times each before meals, or half the quantity if the patients are in a weak condition, and increased in proportion to their strength, will be found a great tonic agent, which all will appreciate when personally satisfied of the facts, as they will be by giving the Bitters one trial.

☞ CAUTION. ☜

Carefulness should be one study, but more particularly when the health is at stake. Since these Bitters have, from their medical qualities, become so popular there have been a great many concoctions called Stomach Bitters, and often represented to be the same in virtue as Dr. Hostetter's, palmed upon the public. Be careful of these villainous compounds! Our Bitters are put up in square quart bottles, and covered with the patent metallic cap, stamped "Hostetter's Stomach Bitters," and D. J. Hostetter blown on the glass. All others are imitation.

THE FROG.

Of all the funny things that live
In woodland, marsh or bog;
That creep the ground, or fly the air,
The funniest thing's the frog.
The frog—the scientificest
O Nature's handiwork—
Too frog that neither walks nor runs,
But goes it with a jerk.

With pants and coats of bottle green,
And yellow, fancy vest,
He plunges into mud and mire—
All in his sunday b'ar.
When he shadows, he's standing up,
As Paddy O'Rafferty said;
And for convenience sake he wears
His eyes on top his head.

You see him sitting on a log,
Above the "vasty deep,"
You feel inclined to say, "old chap!"
Just look before you leap!"
You raise your cane to hit him on
His ugly looking rang,
But are you get it half way up,
Adown he goes a-twang.

He keeps about his native pond,
And ne'er goes on a spree;
Nor gets "how came you so," for a
Cold water chap is he;
For earthly cares he ne'er gets drunk,
He's not a silly fool;
But when they come, he gives a jump,
And drowns 'em in the pool.

ROAD LAW.

We copy from the De Kalb Democrat the following abstract of the Road Laws and duties of Road Supervisors, compiled by the Auditor of that County, and which, he says, contains all the information that is required to enable Road Supervisors to discharge their duties according to Law. It will be found of interest not only to supervisors but to every person subject to do road work, and is worth cutting out and preserving:

DUTIES OF SUPERVISORS,

SEC. 5. Such supervisor shall take an oath before entering upon the discharge of his duties, for the faithful performance thereof; he shall carry into effect all the orders of the trustees of the township in which the road district is situated touching the highways and bridges therein, and keep the same in good repair; he shall also call out all persons in such district liable to work on the highways therein, superintend the work thereon, and see that the same is faithfully performed, and for and collect all fines all fines and commutation money due such district.

SEC. 6 Such supervisor shall call out all male persons except insane, idiots, deaf and dumb, and blind persons, in such district who are residents of this State, and over the age of twenty-one and under fifty years, and not exempt from such labor, during two days in the months of May and June of each year, and shall require each and such persons to work on the highways in such district eight hours each day, and to furnish in such labor any tool the supervisors may direct, if the demand therefor be a reasonable one.

SEC. 7. Such supervisor may require any person liable to work, on such highways, who may be the owner of an ox or horse team, and a plow, cart, or wagon, to furnish the same and such person shall receive such credit for three days' labor therefor, and be receipted accordingly by such supervisor.

SEC. 8. The supervisor of such district shall make out, within ten days after he is qualified, a list of all the persons in such district liable to work on the highways thereof, and present the same to the clerk of such township, who shall enter the same on the record book thereof. Such Supervisor shall notify each person within his road district liable to work on the highways thereof, by verbal or written notice, and if written, to be left at the residence of such person of the time and place of working on such highways, at least three days prior to the time designated for such working.

SEC. 9. On application to the township trustees, any person liable to work on highways may be exempt therefrom, if it be shown that he is unable, from bodily infirmity, to work there on, and that he is too poor to pay the commutation therefor; also, any person belonging to any legally organized fire company; and in such cases the clerk of such township shall execute to such person a certificate thereof, which shall on being presented to the supervisor, entitle him to such exemption.

SEC. 10. Any person liable to work on highways may be exempted therefrom by paying the supervisor of his road district one dollar for each day he is liable to work thereon, and in such case he shall be receipted therefor by the supervisor, which receipt shall be filed with the township clerk, which supervisor shall be authorized to employ some person or persons to work out such money at the rate of seventy-five cents per day on the roads of his district, or failing to do so, he shall pay over all such money into the township treasury. Such supervisor within ten days after warning the lands liable to work in such district, shall bring suit in the name of the township in which such district is situate, against such persons as fail to work or pay over the commutation money therfor, before any justice of the township and in such suit it shall only be necessary for an account stating the number of days which such person so failed and charging one dollar per day each therefor, to be filed as a cause of action; and in case of recovery, by such supervisor, the judgment shall be rendered for one dollar for every day the defendant so failed, and costs of suit, and no stay of execution or benefit of valuation or appraisement laws, shall be allowed on such judgment; and in case such supervisor shall fail to bring such suit, he shall forfeit and pay the sum of ten dollars, to be recovered before any of the justices of township in the name thereof, and all moneys so recovered under the provisions of this section shall be paid into the township treasury by such supervisor; and in case he shall fail to pay over such money within ten days after the receipt thereof, he shall be prosecuted by such treasurer under the statute regulating the punishment of those guilty of neglect of official duty and shall be liable to its penalty.

SEC. 11. All money collected by virtue of the preceding section, shall be credited on such clerk's books to such road district; and shall be applied to the improvement of the highways thereof, under such regulations as such trustees shall adopt.

SEC. 12. Any person liable to perform labor on the public highways, when notified for such purpose, may appear in person, or by an able bodied substitute, and the person or substitute so appearing, shall actually work eight hours in each day, under a penalty of twelve and a half cents for every hour such person or substitute shall be in default, to be deducted by the supervisor for the price of the day's labor.

SEC. 13. If any such person or his substitute after appearing, shall remain idle or not work faithfully, or shall hinder others from working, such offender shall, for every such offence, forfeit the sum of one dollar, to be collected as other fines and forfeitures herein specified, and he shall be discharged by the supervisor without credit for any part of the work he may done.

SEC. 14. Such supervisor, within ten days after the receipt of any money, which he is not required to pay over to the township treasurer, or of any money he ordered by the township trustees, to be paid to him for the repairs of highways, shall proceed to employ laborers to repair the highways to his district, but shall not pay more to such laborers than is customary in his district for similar purposes; and such supervisor shall attend such repair, but in no case shall such supervisor neglect to repair such highways. And if such labor and tax, or labor where no tax has been assessed shall be insufficient therefor, he shall call out the hands in his district to complete such repairs.

SEC. 15. When such extra labor provided for in the next proceeding section, shall not require all the hands in the district, or an equal amount of labor from each, the supervisor may and impose upon the same, upon such number of the hands as he may deem sufficient, and for the excess of work performed by any one over the average amount performed by all, he shall give to such person performing such excess a certificate of the amount thereof, which shall be a good credit to the holder thereof on account of any subsequent labor to be done by him on the highways in said district.

SEC. 16 The supervisor, or any other person by his order, may enter upon any land adjoining or near to any highway in his district, and therefrom conduct such ditches, drains and dams, and dig and remove any gravel, earth, sand or stone, or cut and remove any wood or trees that may be necessary for the proper construction, repair or preservation of such highway; and any person aggrieved may petition the township trustees for an assessment of damages occasioned thereby; and in such case, such trustees shall appoint three disinterested persons in such township to view the locality where the grievance was committed and assess such damages within twenty days after such appointment, they having first taken an oath to faithfully discharge their duties, before some officer authorized to administer oaths; and such viewers shall make a report thereof within ten days after the assessment, to such trustees, having first given notice thereof to the complainant, and such trustees shall order the damages assessed to be paid out of the township treasury, unless they should deem them unreasonable, in which case they may reduce the amount.

SEC. 17. When a public highway running through, or bordering on any plantation, shall become obstructed, the owner or occupant of such plantation shall remove such obstruction as soon as it has come to his knowledge, for which the proper supervisor shall allow him a reasonable credit on his liability to work on the highways, except such obstruction is caused by the act of the owner of such plantation, in which case he shall be required to remove the same, without any such credit.

SEC. 18. All trees standing or lying on the land over which any highway shall be laid out, which it shall be necessary to remove the opening of such highway, shall belong to the owner of such land, if he shall avail himself of the same, before the supervisor is required to open such highway; but all such trees or down timber, or other material found on such premises, may be taken and used by the proper supervisor, for the construction or repair of the highway or bridge on such land.

SEC. 19 Every supervisor shall erect and keep up, at the forks on every highway, and at every crossing of roads within his district, guide posts and boards, with proper inscriptions and devices thereon, the expense thereof to be paid out of the township treasury.

SEC. 25. Any person who shall injure any drain, dam, embankment, ditch or other construction made for the protection of any highway or bridge, or who shall willfully destroy any guide post, or deface any inscription or devices theron, or who shall unnecessarily and to the hindrance of such passengers, obstruct any highway or bridge, and who shall, when driving any vehicle, fail to keep to the right when meeting another vehicle, so as to allow it to pass without injury, for every such offence, such person shall forfeit the sum of five dollars, to be recovered before a justice of the peace of the county, in the name of such trustee, by the supervisor of the district; and in such obstruction, for every day the same is continued, such sum shall be recovered; and in all such cases, such supervisor, within three days after receiving information of any such forfeiture, shall commence such suit, and the sum recovered thereon shall be paid to the treasurer of the township for the benefit of the highways in such district.

SEC. 26. All such suits commenced by one supervisor, may be continued by his successor in office, and no costs shall be taxed against him, therein; and in case such supervisor shall fail to use due diligence in keeping the highways of his district in good repair, under the general regulations herein prescribed, or who shall fail to call out the hands of his district to work on highways thereof, the number of days herein prescribed, unless a tax has been assessed for the repair of such highways, or who shall fail to bring suit for any of the forfeiters herein provided, when required to do so by this act; or who shall fail to perform any other duty enjoined upon him by this act, for every such offence, he shall forfeit the sum of ten dollars, to be recovered before any justice in the county, in the name of the township trustees, by the treasurer of such township; and all sums so recovered shall be for the benefit of the district for which such supervisor was elected or appointed; and such treasurer shall bring such suit within three days after receiving any information of any such forfeiture.

New Gold Discoveries—Great Excitement.—The Hudson Bay Company have had the good luck to find such rich diggins in their territory on Fraser and Thompson Rivers, as to cause a general stampede of every class of people to the mines. The Puget Sound Herald of the 6th ult says:

From gentlemen who came passengers in the Sea Bird, we learn that the Hudson Bay Company at Victoria have received within the last month about one hundred and ten pounds of gold dust from the Indians. This was obtained merely from surface digging, without the aid of anything more than the rude articles—such as pans and willow baskets—possessed by the Indians.

Captain Hyde, of the United States revenue cutter Jefferson Davis, who arrived there the day previous confirmed this report. The Herald thus reports of him:

He informs us that from all he has heard there are very extensive and rich, and that there is no good mining on the American side as the British. He has in his possession one piece of gold worth $30, and vial full of coarse-scale gold which came from the mines.

A few days previous to his sailing, Captain Conner, of the steamer Sea Bird, arrived from Victoria, Vancouver's Island, who informed him that the Hudson Bay Company had shipped 200 pounds weight of gold dust to London. This was collected by one of their traders at Fort Hope, since January 1, 1858. Some are making now in the mines from $5 to $20 per day, and these that are there are writing to their friends to follow them.

There is a general rush for the mines from all quarters of the Sound; farmers are leaving their farms; mills have stopped; the military are deserting, and almost all the team possibly raise, means enough are making tracks for the mines.

This intelligence, when it reached San Francisco, created as much excitement as we were went to see in the early days of California mining. The Herald, of the 27th ult. says:

We learn that between five and six hundred of our citizens are already booked for a passage, on board the steamer Commodore, which leaves to-day. Among these are many of the most active members of our fire department, some of the companies of which will lose from five to ten men.

☞ A new process of extracting teeth was recently tried in Baltimore. A number of teeth were extracted, and the patients declare they experienced no pain, but experienced a numbing sensation about the teeth. This soothing is produced by passing a current of electricity through the teeth at the time of extracting the patient grasps firmly in his hand one pole from an electro-magnetic machine; the other pole is attached to the forceps, and by this means a current of electricity is passed through the tooth, and produces a local anæsthesia, and so avoids the use of chloroform or ether.

A Touch of the Romantic.—In the language of Parthenia, "two hearts with but a single thought, two souls that beat as one," will generally overcome all ordinary obstacles that cruel parents will interpose and finally become united "for better or worse." Such has been the experience, as we must tell it in brief, of Adolph Etienne Godeffroy, a youth of 20 years, His passion, which he could not conceal was reciprocated by Harriet, and the rich patient was appealed to. He, of course, contrasted his bel-Ron with the gauze, and fixed offered by the representatives of Torpedoes, and commanded his son and heir to renounce the object of his love. The son, as in duty bound, (vide the last moral) refused to obey the cruel parent's mandates and a clandestine marriage was consummated. As soon as the father was informed of his proceeding, he had Harriet arrested for obtaining goods under false pretences for some other spurious charge obtained and destroyed the evidence of his son's marriage, and sent him to this city, instructing his agent here to act as a guardian to the youth, and furnish him with $15 per week for his expenses.

Shortly after Adolph had left Humburg for this country, Harriet was set at liberty, when she was informed of the departure of her lover, and immediately determined to follow and overtake him, if possible. Her zeal and love combined enabled her to find the exiled Adolph in this city, and their reunion might be imagined but not properly described. The pursuit of Adolph by Harriet, was communicated by the agent in this city, who was instructed to prevent if possible, a marriage of the parties in this country. The agent was faithful to his instructions, and succeeded in preventing a marriage in this city. But the lovers were not to be thwarted in their distress. They left the city on Saturday last, and finding a magistrate willing in Waltham, to "make the ravin one," for a slight consideration they were married

Asson as the agent discovered that the lovers had outwitted him, he fumed, uttered a variety of strange oaths, and applied to the chief of the Police for assistance. It was, however, too late. The united hearts could not be severed—the link could not be broken. Adolph, in his pride, and Harriet who we ought to have stated before, is a voluptuous, lah skinned, dark eyed, and fascinating woman, appeared before the chief yesterday afternoon, and soon satisfied him that they had consulted their tastes and happiness in the matter, and there was no possibility of changing the course of human events, so far as they were concerned.

This closes the story. Adolph has taken a store in Hanover street, where he and his wife will probably be pleased to receive the patronage of the public until the elder Godeffroy relents, forgives, and calls them back to Hamburg.—Boston Herald.

Perpetual Motion.—A Western correspondent of Harper's Magazine gets off the following good one:

"I was traveling in Virginia by stage and spending the night at a country tavern, and was greatly entertained by the talk of the stage drivers and others sitting around the bar-room fire in the evening. One old codger worked off a good thing:

"When he was down to the fair a good many years ago there was a prize offered to the one who would come nearest to making perpetual motion. Such has been the experience, as we must tell it in brief, of Adolph Etienne Godeffroy, a youth of 20 years, and Harriet Emilie Kohlfahl, a maiden of only 18 summers. Adolph who is the son of the richest man in Hamburg fell in love, met victorially and invariably with Harriet, who first appeared to him in the form of a premiere danseuse, light as a fairy and beautiful as a sylph His passion, which he could not conceal was reciprocated by Harriet, and the rich patient was appealed to. Well, all sorts of machines, of all shape and materials, were fetched there and shown and the makers told them how long they would run. As I walked about there I saw a regularly built machine, about the size of a hand-organ, standing on a table. It had a crank to turn, and a wheel, and a lot of cogs and bands, and a pulley or two, and a little hammer that struck a bell. The inventor was a little, dried-up, old man, with a wooden leg, and he was very proud of his machine. He told me that he had been at work on it for more than twenty years, and that he had at last got it to run. He showed me that it was driven by a spring, and that the spring was wound up by the motion of the machine itself. He said that he had put in a pound more force than was necessary to keep the machine going, and that the surplus force would keep the machine running for ever, and would also ring the bell every time it went round. I asked him if he had ever tried it, and he said he had not, but that he was sure it would go. I asked him what would happen when the machine got worn out, and he said that it would last for ever, and would never get worn out. I asked him what would happen if the machine should get broken, and he said that it would mend itself. I asked him what would happen if the machine should get lost, and he said that it would find itself. I asked him what would happen if the machine should get stolen, and he said that it would steal itself back again. I asked him what would happen if the machine should get burned, and he said that it would put itself out. I asked him what would happen if the machine should get drowned, and he said that it would swim itself out of the water. I asked him what would happen if the

SATURDAY, MAY 29, 1858.

Dangerous Illness of Gov. Willard.—It is with undisguised regret we announce that Gov. Willard has for the past week been lying in an extremely critical condition from a severe attack of congestion of the lungs or pneumonia. The latest accounts are rather more favorable. The state Sentinel of Thursday says: "The symptoms of Gov. Willard were more favorable on Sunday. His physicians are more hopeful of his recovery, and no longer regard him in an immediate danger."

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, a majority of the Judiciary Committee have reported that Messrs Bright and Fitch, Senators from this state are entitled to their seats. The report is a full and correct one, and will be adopted by the Senate. There can be no doubt these gentlemen were legally elected, and are as much entitled to their seats as any other Senators on that floor.

The House has decided against Mr. Lewis D. Campbell, of Ohio, right to his seat. It is charged that he was elected by illegal votes, having received more votes of that complexion than his majority over Mr. Vallandigham, his competitor. A resolution that Mr Vallandigham is entitled to the seat was adopted by four majority; and he was sworn in and took his seat.

THE MORMONS.—There is no official confirmation of the reported submission of the Mormons but the fact that Gov. Cummings has proceeded to Salt Lake City at the invitation of Brigham Young is confirmed by later arrivals. The Mormon women and children have left the city and been sent to the southward, and many of the men have proceeded in the same direction. Some reports are that their destination is an almost inaccessible mountain range in the southwestern part of the territory, where gold is said to be abundant; others assert that the Mexican province of Sonora is to be their next resting place.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES.—We have at present two boards of School Trustees in our city—one elected by the people, and another subsequently appointed by the city council. At the city election on the 4th inst. Messrs W. Rockhill, S. Edsall, and T. Tigar, were elected school trustees, beating James Humphrey, the opposing candidate, upwards of 100 votes, and they were officially notified by the City Clerk that they were duly elected Trustees. The city council for some reason at least to themselves, took it into their heads to set aside this election and go through the farce of balloting for Trustees, and announced that Messrs Rockhill, Tigar and Humphrey were elected. The two former declared the appointment, and protested against the legality of the council's setting aside the regular election. Mr. Humphrey we believe has accepted the appointment, and is now the council's board; Messrs Rockhill, Edsall, and Tigar have qualified and act as the people's board. The question now is, which is the legal board? The law says they shall be elected by the people, or appointed by the corporation; and the people having elected we contend there was no necessity for the council to appoint, nor had they any right to do so. This we understand is the opinion of some of our most eminent lawyers, to whom the matter has been submitted.

The pertinacity of the council and the determination evinced to force Mr. Humphrey on the board, after he was so signally defeated before the people gives rise to some unpleasant surmises, have a very bad effect on the cause of public education, and will inevitably lead to much difficulty in collecting any city tax levied for school purposes. It is a thing that ought to have been especially avoided by the council if they are friends to free schools. How any friends of that cause could act so injudiciously is unaccountable; and how a board, professedly democratic, can totally demount a convention and elected the votes of that party, could arrogate to themselves the power of setting aside a popular election and superceding the men nominated in a regular convention and duly elected, is inexplicable. If ever they again come before the people, they will find the doctrine of popular sovereignty is not to be wantonly trampled upon.

The present posture of affairs is much to be deplored, and can only result in mischief to our free schools. The only path of safety now is for the Common Council to retrace their steps, acknowledge their error and the evil counsels which have guided them, and hereafter submit themselves to their sovereigns—the people. For the sake of harmony and the prosperity of our free schools, we hope they will take this wise and patriotic course.

Latest from Europe.—The Africa arrived in New York on Thursday, with Liverpool dates to the 14th. There is nothing of much interest. The steadiness of the ministry was reported by the House of Lords by a majority, but it could not retain its power the Commons in which case Lord Derby will have to resign, and the Liberals will again come into power. The trouble is not expected that, and there seemed at present no crisis.

Look out for Counterfeits.—Parties have been arrested in Cincinnati and Toledo, lately in their possession large amounts of Counterfeits on the Banks of Holyoke and Hadley Falls, Mass. Some of the money has found their way here and is circulated to a small extent. Counterfeiters generally use the Mexican dollar as the basis of their operations. The Holyoke Bank bills are well executed, and are calculated to deceive the unwary. Be on your guard.

A New Counterfeit Detected.—Dr. Patterson, another of the many arrested in the northwestern part of the state, has been committed by the U. S. District Court on a charge of making it, passing it. Satisfactory proof was produced.

THE AMERICAN NAVY at this time consists of seventy-six vessels of all classes, and 28 which are considered unseaworthy. Thirty vessels including 12 steam frigates, are now in commission. The navy contains two line of battle ships, six sailing frigates, 13 steam frigates, 21 sloops of war, 3 steam tenders, 2 brigs, 1 schooner, and seven ships.

A Good Appointment.—James J. Farran, Esq. editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, has been appointed professor at that city. This is an appointment eminently fit to be made. He possesses every qualification for the office, and is a man who has done good service in the cause, and enjoys the entire confidence of his party and the community generally.

Hon. HENRY B. ANTHONY, U. S. Senator of Rhode Island, and colleague of the President elect, has been elected U. S. Senator from the State of Rhode Island, in place of Hon. Phillip Allen whose term expires on the 4th March next.

Fine Apples.—Messrs. Townsend's are over on the lookout for some rarity or luxury to gratify their customers. Next Monday they will open a few cases of delicious Pine Apples.

Rain, hail, and that occasionally in the form of snow we should never have settled weather, then day was fine, the rain alone brilliantly and the novelty of the sensation put everybody in good spirits and led to numerous promenades of fair weather, sunshine and fine and harvest. But alas, for the instability of human hopes! Yesterday morning we had a tremendous storm, the heaviest we have experienced for years; the rain fell in torrents, our streets were perfectly inundated, and all hopes of a fair weather were summarily dispelled and washed away in the storm flood.

We still entertain hopes that we may have some day weather this summer, and believe there is yet a good time coming; but we are not at present prepared to fix the exact time when it shall arrive.

Interesting to Farmers, &c.—By the notice in another column it will be seen that Professor Palmer will commence a course of lectures on Farming, Physiology, and Physiology as applied to Farming next, at Colerick's Hall. He will also give charts showing the physiological developments of those who desire to know what their capacities are, and how best to improve them. The subject is an interesting one, and as the lectures are free, we presume he will have good audiences.

☞ We acknowledge the receipt of a bottle of Old London Dock Gin, from Messrs. Wall, Meyer & Co. It is warranted to be perfectly pure, and is put up especially as a safe and reliable medicine for family use. We have not yet been under the necessity of testing it, but have no doubt that it is all it purports to be,—not only a good medicine, but also far better to take than the medicines usually put up in drug stores.

Wall & Meyer keep a supply of other liquors, warranted pure, expressly for medical uses.

Harper's Magazine for June is received at Hill's Book Store. It is a good number and contains much interesting matter.

EGBERT, or an Embryo Life. By EMMA CARRY. J. Frank & Co. publishers, Boston. Price $1.00.

This is a neatly printed and very readable story of early pioneer life in New England, and is peculiar in its descriptions of incidents peculiar to that most interesting period of our history. The characters are strongly drawn, and yet they are true to nature, and many of its scenes are founded upon facts.

The Central Christian Herald says of it:—"This is a pleasantly written story, and is free from those high wrought descriptions which make so many novels vitiating in their influence. Its pictures of home life in New England, a century or more ago, are no doubt truthful, and therefore instructive."

☞ In our last we announced the suicide, at Delphi, of Moses D. Gridley of this city. A writer in the Delphi Times attributes the melancholy event entirely to the misguided and foolish interference of the spiritualists, who it appears infest that town in great numbers, and were allowed to operate on the unhappy man. We certainly think his friends acted very injudiciously in allowing spiritualists to have access to him, or in any way to operate upon him; nor can we account for it in another way, than that they were believers in the doctrine that "like cures like." The Delphi News says:

Some weeks ago Mr. Gridley, then residing at Fort Wayne, was, upon an inquest, as provided for under the statute, declared to be insane, and the unfortunate man was placed in charge of some of his friends to be conveyed to Indianapolis. On the way, the person having him in charge at Delphi, where he has a brother and sister residing, and where his father also at present makes his home. Here he was kept for about four weeks at the urgent solicitation of the leading spiritualists of the place in order, that a trial of the efficacy of spiritual pathetizing and spiritual pow-wow in restoring his reason might be made by some deluded fanatics here, who vainly and arrogantly suppose themselves through the influence of the spirits, to be clothed with supernatural power. From the very moment of their commencing operations upon him, he grew weaker and more melancholy, and during the progress of their experiments was at times almost deprived of the faculty of speech. The measures prescribed by these lunatics were so ridiculously perverted in that they proceeded in exciting at the few rays of light that occasionally cheered his mental vision, and in that dark hour he committed the act which relieved him "unanointed and unannealed" into the presence of his Creator, leaving a large circle of friends, and an affectionate wife sunk in inconsolable grief.

THERE appears to be a tendency to insanity in this family; but it is of that mild character which readily yields to proper treatment, and we cannot for a moment doubt, but that if Mr. Gridley had been immediately conveyed to the hospital, and the spiritualists here not been allowed to tamper with him, he would ere now have been restored to mind and body to the unspeakable joy and happiness of his now pensive wife and family, all now mourning his untimely end.

Gov. Wright's Position.—We see in different exchange papers in the State, assuming that Gov. Wright's appointment as minister to Russia is conditional upon the Senate for confirmation, we have only to say that we have taken pains to learn the matter with a good degree of certainty. We do not see any policy to withhold the nomination, and we believe if no reasons are developed to the contrary, it will be so confirmed, and that for good reasons. The friends of Mr. Wright are pleased to see that the appointment is confirmed, and they are particularly delighted, and so are we, that the appointment is conferred upon the opposing party. Under these circumstances it is natural that the democratic party should be desirous of having the appointment confirmed, and we believe it will be. Mr. Wright's appointment is a compliment to the opposing party, and it is a compliment which is eminently deserved. Mr. Wright has been a faithful democrat, and has done good service in the cause, and enjoys the entire confidence of his party and the community generally.

Hon. HENRY B. ANTHONY, U. S. Senator of Rhode Island, and colleague of the President elect, has been elected U. S. Senator from the State of Rhode Island, in place of Hon. Phillip Allen whose term expires on the 4th March next.

Fine Apples.—Messrs. Townsend's are over on the look out for some rarity or luxury to gratify their customers. Next Monday they will open a few cases of delicious Pine Apples.

Rain, hail, and that occasionally in the form of snow we should never have settled weather, then day was fine, the rain alone brilliantly and the novelty of the sensation put everybody in good spirits and led to numerous promenades of fair weather, sunshine and fine and harvest. But alas, for the instability of human hopes! Yesterday morning we had a tremendous storm, the heaviest we have experienced for years; the rain fell in torrents, our streets were perfectly inundated, and all hopes of a fair weather were summarily dispelled and washed away in the storm flood.

We still entertain hopes that we may have some day weather this summer, and believe there is yet a good time coming; but we are not at present prepared to fix the exact time when it shall arrive.

☞ The motion for a new trial in the case of Wm. M. Connelly, convicted before the U. S. Circuit Court at Cincinnati of harboring and assisting fugitive slaves, has been refused, and the accused fined $500 and sentenced to 30 days imprisonment.

Interesting to Farmers, &c.—By the notice in another column it will be seen that Professor Palmer will commence a course of lectures on Farming, Physiology, and Physiology as applied to Farming next, at Colerick's Hall. He will also give charts showing the physiological developments of those who desire to know what their capacities are, and how best to improve them. The subject is an interesting one, and as the lectures are free, we presume he will have good audiences.

☞ We acknowledge the receipt of a bottle of Old London Dock Gin, from Messrs. Wall, Meyer & Co. It is warranted to be perfectly pure, and is put up especially as a safe and reliable medicine for family use. We have not yet been under the necessity of testing it, but have no doubt that it is all it purports to be,—not only a good medicine, but also far better to take than the medicines usually put up in drug stores.

Wall & Meyer keep a supply of other liquors, warranted pure, expressly for medical uses.

NEW YORK, May 28.

A dispatch to the Herald says a preliminary meeting of the politicians from all parts of the country was held secretly last night at Washington, with a view to a consultation of a programme for a general action of the opponents of the Administration. An address will soon be issued.

The Charleston correspondent says that Governor expects important intelligence from Europe by the next steamer. It is understood that Lord Napier has received information that his government would not interfere in the slightest degree in favor of Walker's expedition. Should this be the case, the President will have no difficulty in preventing the organization of the expedition, and the Government will be relieved from all embarrassment in the matter. The Administration is determined to meet this difficulty with vigor, and has instructions from every one of the officers of the customs to bring to the notice of the District Attorney all cases of violation of the neutrality laws.

Mr Douglas is authorized by the committee on Territories to report a bill establishing territorial governments in Nebraska and Arizona, to be referred to the Committee of the Whole.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, May 22.

HOUSE.—The consideration of the Minnesota election cases coming up as unfinished business was resumed.

Mr. HUGHES, of Florida, by direct request of the Committee on Elections, submitted the certificate of election to Becker, which Mr. Stanton had declared void in the Chrisfield case, after obtaining over 1,000 votes after a letter from Governor Medary, as Governor of the Territory, declaring that Becker had received a majority of the votes. Mr. Hughes said Messrs. Phelps and Cavanaugh, to avoid the taking a number of votes referring to Mr. Cooley's Almanac figures.

Mr. Harris said that the Committee considered that. They were instructed to go into simply into the prima facie rights of Messrs Phelps and Cavanaugh, leaving their seats open to contest.

Mr. Washburn, of Maine, offered a resolution declaring that Messrs. Phelps and Cavanaugh were not entitled to be admitted and sworn. Negatived by 97 to 96.

The question was then taken on the resolution of the majority of the Committee on Elections that Messrs. Phelps and Cavanaugh were entitled to their seats, but shall not be considered in establishing any custom of their right to seats which may be hereafter instituted by persons having a right to do so. Adopted—yeas 136, nays 64.

Messrs. Phelps and Cavanaugh were then sworn in.

Mr. Campbell called up the Ohio contested election case.

The Committee on Elections were unable to agree on any report.—Messrs. Boyce, Scranton, Phillips and Bennett according to their opinion that Vallandigham is entitled to a seat.—Messrs. Washburn of Maine, Clark of Connecticut, Gilmer and Wilson, agree that Campbell is not entitled to his seat, but Mr. Harris, of Illinois, proposing that the seat be declared vacant.

WASHINGTON, May 24.

HOUSE.—The House proceeded to the consideration of business relating to the district of Columbia, in accordance with a special order.

The bill to regulate municipal elections in Washington gave rise to an animated debate, during which Mr. Davis of Maryland, said the President, Mayor, and other municipal officers were vicious, corrupt and unfit for the places they hold, and the floating temporary Government vote elected them.

He vindicated the Americans, and denounced the calling out of the marines last June, to the election and consequent bloodshed.

Mr. Barnes replied that was notorious that the reign of Terror prevailed here at that time, owing to the arrival of rowdies from Baltimore, armed with deadly weapons.

Mr. Marshall of Ky., replied to so much of Mr. Barnes's remarks as referred to the Louisville riots saying that they originated with Foreigners who would ill-rebel party as was the decision of human life. He denied utterly that there is now, or ever has been anything like a political proscription in Americanism, properly understood.

Mr. Barnes proceeded to show that Mr. Marshall did not give a correct history of the Louisville riots, and charged him over and incendiarism on the American party.

The Executive and other district bills were considered and laid aside for further action.

SENATE.—Mr. Douglas of Ill. introduced a bill for locating communication between the Atlantic and Pacific States by telegraph.

Mr. Douglas also introduced the following incorporate bill, having reference to British and Mexican aggressions. It reads as follows:

"A bill to restrain and redress outrages upon the flag and citizens of the United States—Be it enacted, &c, that in case of flagrant violations of the laws of nations by outrages upon the flag and to citizens of the United States, or upon their property, under circumstances requiring prompt redress: and when, in the opinion of the President, delay would be incompatible with the honor and dignity of the Republic, the President is hereby authorized to employ such force as he may deem necessary, to prevent the perpetration of such outrages, and to obtain just redress and satisfaction for the same when perpetrated, and it shall be his duty to lay the fact of such case, together with the reasons for his actions in the premises, before Congress, at the earliest practicable moment, for further action thereon as Congress may direct."

The majority of the Committee on the Judiciary reported that Senators Bright and Fitch, of Indiana were entitled to their seats.

Mr. Pugh of Ohio, moved that the report be printed.

Mr Trumbull of Ill., one of the minority of the committee, wished to know what documents were to be printed.

Some Parliamentary skirmishing ensued, ending by Mr. Pugh, re-questing to be excused from serving on the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Hunter of Virginia, called up the bill authorizing a loan of fifteen million dollars by the Secretary of the Treasury. He advocated its passage in the expectation that in some months trade would gain its activity, and the revenue will be revived. Even at the present rates show a surplus, providing economy be used in the administration of the Government.

Mr Wilson replied, showing that Mr. Hunter's estimates for the coming revenue, were exaggerated, and that the actual probabilities are that it will not exceed fifty or fifty-five millions, when the expenditures being seventy-five millions will leave a deficiency, for actual outlay, of 25 millions exclusive of over twenty millions, of treasury notes; in other words money must be provided to meet the demand of one hundred millions of dollars. He (Wilson) proposed that no few hours was insufficient before January next. He moved to strike out the fifth section, appointing two additional clerks, which was carried—yeas 25, nays 23.

Mr. Wilson also moved to reduce the estimate from printing the laws from $20,000 to $5,000, also carried—yeas 27, nays 21.

Mr. Rigler moved to amend by making a census in June, while was opposed to.

Mr. Cameron said that the coupon bonds would be more readily taken and at a lower rate by the citizen, would reduce a rate of interest from six to five per cent. Carried yeas 38, nays 11.

Mr. Seward introduced a lengthy amendment with reference to the cultivation of imports to the states which was ordered to be printed.

Mr. Bell introduced a joint resolution the question of ordering it to be printed.

WASHINGTON, May 25.

HOUSE.—A resolution offered by Mr. Marshall of Kentucky for the postponement of the Ohio contested election case was rejected by 26 nays.

A resolution of Mr. Simmons of South Carolina, to appoint a committee on Kansas affairs declaring it is Mr. Campbell is not entitled to a seat was rejected by a vote of 96 to 96.

A resolution of Mr Lovejoy, also of the Committee on Elections declaring that Mr. Vallandigham is entitled to the seat was adopted by a vote of 98 to 96.

A resolution of Mr Harris, declaring that the seat is vacant was lost—yeas 96, nays 98.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union, Mr. Campbell in the chair, on the bill to provide for the payment of the Revolutionary pensioners.

Mr. Bocock explained the provisions of the bill, which was opposed by Mr. Smith of Virginia.

Mr. Bocock replied, and the bill was then ordered to be reported to the House.

B. RANDALL,

PROPRIETOR OF

I. M. SINGER'S

of the State of Pennsylvania (except the counties of Erie, Allegheny and Philadelphia) State of Wisconsin, and the northern part of Indiana.

THIS world wide reputation of these machines renders puffing unnecessary. All who have used Singer's Machines testify their superior merits over all others. Over 12,000 have been sold and are now in active operation, and not one has proved a failure! By simply changing the needle and thread the same machine will execute perfectly every variety of work, coarse or fine, on cloth or leather. From $200 to $500 a year can be cleared by an individual using this machine, that can be cleared by hand.

Singer has also brought out a new highly ornamented, which for beauty and excellence he surpasses all other Family Machines. These machines use two threads, forming a lock stitch in the centre of the goods sewed, and making a perfect back stitch on both sides of the cloth, which makes a seam much stronger and neater to rip than hand sewing, and does not use more than two thirds as much thread as the chain stitch machine.

These machines are for sale by the undersigned, at his office on North Fifth Street, opposite Good's Hotel, Reading, Pennsylvania;

Also by T. E. EVANSON, Travelling Agent in Indiana, Silk, Needles, Oil, and Thread for sale by T. E. EVANSON.

Washington Territory.—A letter from Vancouver Washington Territory, confirms former reports of most extensive gold discoveries on Fraser's River, in the vicinity of Colville. The correspondent of the San Francisco Herald writes from Olympia:

Already a large amount of mining machinery has been transported overland, and the country is filling up with adventurers from the States. The Hudson's Bay Company's post at the forks of Thompson's river, called New Caledonia, Mr M has just come from the interior of the country, and states that Fraser's River can be ascended in steamers of 1500 tons burden to Alexandria, 1000 miles from the mouth. Mr. M. first drove some sawlogs up that river, and afterwards went up in a canoe to Alexandria, where, on reaching the entrance of Fraser's river.

Parents Applying for a Divorce.—In New York, on Monday, very amusing petition for a divorce was presented to the Supreme Court, which may be taken as highly illustrative of our age of progress. Edward Ayres, an infant, aged 14, applied by petition to have a guardian appointed to prosecute a suit for a divorce from his wife, the petitioner's not the guardians—wife. The Judge having read the papers, inquired how old the interesting lady-defendant might be and was informed she was about sixteen. The Judge then granted the prayer of the petition.

Growing Potatoes Under Straw.—Having seen, in the agricultural journals, more than a year ago, reports of extraordinary success in raising potatoes by covering them with straw, I was induced to try a small experiment which I will relate for the benefit of some of your readers.

A plot in my garden, about fifty feet square and well manured, dug deep, and loam, was nicely spaded up and made fine and smooth. It was then marked out in shallow drills, two feet and a half apart, and potatoes (of the Pinkeye variety) planted whole, two feet apart in the drills, and barely covered with earth. The whole patch was then covered with dry wheat straw—which had been very much broken by its passage through a threshing machine—and the same spread lightly and evenly with a pitchfork, to the depth of about two feet. Several showers occurred soon after the potatoes were planted, which settled the straw very considerably and in due time the vines came up through the straw, and soon covered the entire surface with the rankest vegetation.

Nothing now was done to the patch till the vines were killed by frost in autumn. Not a weed appears on it to this day. At the usual time of digging potatoes, the dead vines were all pulled and removed, then, with a potato fork, the layer of straw—which was pretty well rotted, and not more than four or five inches in thickness—was carefully removed. To my great surprise, there lay the potatoes in perfect order, literally covering the ground, and almost as clean as if they had been washed. They were picked up and measured, but the quantity I do not remember. This much however, I will recollect that I never raised so good a crop by any other mode of culture. They were of very uniform size, and of good quality.

S. MOSHER.

Latonia Springs, Ky., March 1858

Until trying the above method of growing potatoes is worthy of further trial, especially by those who live in warm latitudes. Protected by the straw from the scorching rays of the sun, the ground would naturally remain moist and cool—thus providing for the potatoes the three conditions, best adapted to their growth.—Ohio Valley Farmer.

The American Horse Trainer's System Explained.—On the 21st, at Astley's Amphitheatre, in London, Mr William Cooke, the equestrian, undertook to exemplify Professor Rarey's system of breaking and training unmanageable and vicious horses. There was consequently, a crowded house; the lesser particularly being well filled. We take the following account of what took place from the Morning Advertiser:—Mr Wm Cooke informed the audience that, having advertised his intention of exhibiting Professor Rarey's principle of subduing horses, by experimenting on any horse that might be sent him, a horse had been sent to him that morning for the purpose. A full grown horse—a hunter—was then led in, and the following simple mode of operation was adopted: A strap is attached to the off-hind of the right fore-leg, and drawn over the animal's right shoulder, whether it is held by Mr Cooke. The left leg is then bent inwards, so as to bring the heel in contact with the thigh, and much fast in that position by a strap and buckle. Mr Cooke then, taking the reins in his left hand, and bringing the strap attached to the horse's fore-leg into a state of tension, urges the animal to walk on his three legs. Holding the reins tight, and so as to incline the head to the left, the horse is forced to make a journey twice round the circus. At this time he exhibits symptoms of great exhaustion, goes on his knees, and ultimately lies down in the most submissive manner. He is then relieved from the inconvenient and unaccustomed restrictions imposed upon him by the straps, and Mr Cooke lies upon him in a recumbent position, and caresses him and his trappings are received by the horse with such indications of gratification as to leave no doubt that the most friendly relations are established between the parties.

Cooling Rooms.—The warm weather will shortly be here, and every one will be seeking the refreshing influence of a cool and shady place, whereunto they can retreat from the blazing sun; so we will give our readers a few hints concerning the way to cool their houses. The first necessity is a thorough draught. This can always be obtained by opening every door and window in the basement, the top of every window above, and by throwing every door wide open; but, above all, be sure that the trap door in the roof is open, and there is plenty of air room from it above so that whichever be the direction of the wind there will be at least one ascending current of air in the house. Another requisite is shade. Our common slat shutters answer well for the wind when in the most cheap and convenient of use for the roof is to cover it thickly with straw, dried reeds, or rushes. Those will keep out the rays of the sun, and keep the air cool in the basement. One of the most delightful sensations, and at the same time conducive to healthfully lowering the temperature of the room is to wet a cloth (any size, from a towel to a sheet, and suspend it in the place you wish cooled; let the room be well ventilated and the cloth will sink from ten to twenty degrees in less than half an hour. The above plans are easy and even a fast speed would not be needed in the cooler days of autumn and winter, but only sprinkled in the room, or the passages and stairs.—

Preserving Tomatoes.—Our fair readers, all of whom are fond of tomatoes in some of which forms or other—will be interested in the following method of preserving them from willing, which is said to succeed with highly successful. Procure a flat dish or pan, and cover the bottom with powdered sugar; then put on a layer of tomatoes, and cover the tomatoes with sugar; then another layer of tomatoes, and cover them with sugar, and so on until the dish is filled with such layers. The air that surrounds the tomatoes will extract the sugar, and the juice will be found beneath the bell glass, covered with sugar, that takes place of the tomatoes. As fast as the water becomes dissolved, it is poured on the side of the bell glass, and it means be taken entirely from the tomatoes. The tomatoes will keep for a long time, operating in the air of the sitting room around the flowers is completely done away. The plan is designated the "Air Preserving." The experiment may be tried by inverting a tumbler over a saucer of water.

Cultivating Strawberries.—Many persons who cultivate strawberries, and some of them have a garden should have a spring bed, should remember that if they are not kept well watered, they must prevent them from bearing. It is a fact that the vines will grow and ripen while runners are permitted to go to work, but if the runners as fast as they appear, and you will have fruit all summer. Strawberry vines will not bear in mind, that straw vines are remarkably fond of water—water them as often as the flow, and they will do much

PILES! PILES! PILES!!

This hitherto intractable disease, of every form and in every stage,

CURED BY EXTERNAL APPLICATION ONLY

Dr. Cavanaugh's PILE SALVE

WILL never fail in giving immediate relief, and positively curing the worst and most obstinate case of Hemorrhoids or Piles. It is the here or elsewhere for the Piles, and the result of years of patient study and investigations.

Sufferers from Piles now have a remedy at hand which will

without the fair of failure on its part to do all the proprietor claims for it.

Full directions accompanying each box; and all that is requisite is strictly to observe them, and a cure is to obtain to follow.

The proprietor refers to the following testimonials from gentlemen of character and standing, who have voluntarily given their certificates in favor in regard to its efficacy in their own cases. Read them.

The following is from one of the most reliable men of Chicago, the late Treasurer of Cook County Illinois:

Chicago July 25, 1855.

Dr. Cavanaugh—Dear Sir,—I wish hereby to make known to the afflicted that I have been troubled with the Piles for twenty years and upwards, and at times most severely. And during a recent and exceedingly painful attack, a friend presented a box of your Salve, and I used it. In a word, I did not feel however with the expectation of benefiting me in the least, for, truly, I had tried so many applications I had lost confidence in all. But in making use of your Salve, I soon found that it was doing me good, and really it is needless to say more, that with only one box of your Salve, I am so far as I can judge, a well man.

I most cheerfully make this statement, believing it due both to yourself and such as may be afflicted with this most painful and trying disease. I do not hesitate to say that I consider your preparation an invaluable remedy for the Piles.

Most sincerely yours. I. N. HEALD.

The Hon. Richard Yates, late member of Congress from the Springfield, Ill., district, says:

Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 12, 1855.

Dr. Thos. H. Cavanaugh.—Dear Sir.—The preparation, Cavanaugh's Pile Salve, which you furnished, I found a great relief, producing an easy and speedy cure. I do not hesitate to recommend it as an invaluable remedy for the Piles.

Respectfully. RICHARD YATES.

FRUIT TREES AND SHRUBBERY.

WE the undersigned, Proprietors of the Fruit Tree Nursery, and members of the firm of Forbes & Williams & Co., of the Western Counties Nursery at Lafayette, Indiana, take this means of informing the public that we have purchased all of the stock, good, healthy, and well grown, on the Fort Wayne Nursery, belonging to said Nursery by W. Forbes & Co., and that every effort will be made, as heretofore, to merit the trade and confidence of the people. Having been engaged in the Nursery and Fruit business (and no other) for the past fifteen years, we are confident that we are qualified to meet the wishes of our patrons in this particular, and to give valuable aid and advice in all matters connected with the Fruit business. The stock which we now offer for sale has been got up with the view of adaption to our soil and climate, knowing as we do that such will succeed when Eastern trees will in most cases entirely fail.

We therefore have the pleasure of offering for sale
